CONVENTION IN GREAT UPROAR

ALL TAFT DELEGATES ARE SEATED

ROOSEVELT BREAKS OFFICIALLY FROM REPUBLICAN PARTY

Busies Himself Sewing Clothes for Baby Organization; Makes Long and Bitter Statement

CHICAGO, June 22.—After making preliminary arrangements for the organization of a new party, Colonel Roosevelt definitely severed today his relations with the Republican National Committee. In a statement setting forth his position in this regard he said that, since the convention had declined to remove the delegates whom he contends, are fraudulent he could not recognize its authority. He urged his delegates to refrain from voting in the convention, although stating in case they did vote, he would not free them from the obligation to cast their ballots for him.

ISSUES HIS STATEMENT.

Colonel Roosevelt at 12:40 issued this statement: "A clear majority of the delegates honestly elected to this convention were chosen by the people to nominate me. Under the direction, and with the encouragement of Mr. Taft, the majority of the national committee, by the so-called steam roller methods and with scandalous disregard of every principle of elementary honesty and decency, stole 80 or 90 delegates, putting in the temporary roll-call a sufficient number of fraudulent delegates to defeat the legally expressed will of the people and to submit a dishonest for an honest majority."

"The convention has now declined to purge the roll of the fraudulent delegates placed thereon by the defunct national committee and the majority, which thus endorsed fraud, was made a majority only because it included the fraudulent delegates themselves, who all sat as judges on one another's cases."

NOT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

"If these fraudulent votes had not thus been cast and counted the convention would have been purged of their presence. This action makes the convention in no proper sense any longer a Republican convention, representing the real Republican party."

"Therefore, I hope the men elected as Roosevelt delegates will now decline to vote on any matter before the convention. I do not release any delegate from his honorable obligation to vote for me if he votes at all; but under the actual conditions I hope that he will not vote at all."

"REPRESENTS BUT FRAUD."

"The convention, as now composed, has no claim to represent the voters of the Republican party. It represents nothing but successful fraud in overriding the will of the rank and file of the party."

"Any man nominated by the convention as now constituted would be merely the beneficiary of this successful fraud; it would be deeply discreditable to any man to accept the convention's nomination under these circumstances, and any man thus accepting it would have no claim to the support of any Republican on party grounds and would have forfeited the right to ask the support of any honest man of any party on moral understanding nor moral grounds."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

DELEGATES MET COLONEL.

The Roosevelt "steam roller" delegates and their alternates who were excluded from the convention met Colonel Roosevelt in a body. The Colonel held a brief reception and informed them that the plans for a new party were being pushed forward rapidly and urged them to stand firm.

It was his first intention to meet them by state delegations, but they collected so rapidly in the corridors near his office that it was decided to marshal them all into the Roosevelt national committee's assembly hall at one time.

"Mr. Roosevelt's name will not be presented to this convention as now constituted," was the declaration of Ormsby McHarg of the Roosevelt forces today.

"The nominating speech of William A. Frenders, which had been intended to be delivered in presenting Mr. Roosevelt will not be made."

"The Roosevelt forces will remain in the convention, but as long as tainted delegates remain, and there seems every prospect that they will remain, we will not participate in the nomination."

There was talk early today among Roosevelt delegates of a mass meeting to effect some form of temporary organization of a new party. It is the desire of the leaders to take such a step before the delegates separate so that the work of forming a new party may begin at once in every part of the country. It had not been decided whether a meeting would be held in the Coliseum on adjournment of the

NEW YORK, June 22.—"I will take judicial cognizance that it is quite a common custom among many refined women in the larger cities of the world to smoke cigarettes," announced the court here, sitting in the case of Richard V. W. Thorne, a broker, against his divorced wife, an actress, now Mrs. Charles H. Pope. The controversy is over the custody of a small son, Thorne claiming that the child had been practically abandoned by the mother. One of the reasons urged why Mrs. Pope should not continue in charge of the boy—that she smoked cigarettes—drew forth the opinion from the court.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The affairs of the California Safe Deposit and Trust company which are in the hands of F. J. Symmes, were again aired in Superior Judge Beawell's court this morning and it was found that the recent sale of property was void and of no effect. This was caused by the fact that the court failed to sign an order authorizing the auctioning of the company. This morning the court formally ordered the sale of all the real estate held by the defunct bank and stated that the order will be signed as soon as it is prepared. This does not include the property on which the bank building stands which is a matter entirely separate and CHICAGO, June 22.—It was believed by the Republican leaders that it might be possible to conclude the nominations and adjourn the convention by midnight or earlier. There was talk, however, of a recess after the nomination of the head of the ticket in order to arrange a slate for the vice-presidential nomination. This may prolong the session beyond midnight, but it is not believed probable that such will be the case.

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago, June 22.—In a riot of disorder, above which rang out the songs of a woman in the gallery, the National Republican Convention today read the reports of the credentials committee and passed all of them.

All of the contested delegates were passed on by the credentials committee and seated by the convention. The Texas delegates-at-large were credited to President Taft and as such were given their seats by vote of 21 to 15. The convention then went about effecting a permanent organization.

The Roosevelt delegates in the Republican National Convention started a prolonged demonstration in the convention late this afternoon when Henry J. Allen of Kansas got up to read a "Roosevelt valedictory."

The convention had concluded consideration of all contest cases, the Taft forces winning on everything. Permanent organization also had been effected. At the first mention of Roosevelt by Allen the cheering broke out and a parade of delegates carrying State standards began.

In the credentials committee there was much excitement when Chairman De Vine branded as "wilful liars" and "gutter workers," the Roosevelt men who signed the statement accusing the majority members of preparing their reports in advance.

"WILFUL, DELIBERATE LIAR."

"Any time a man makes such a charge," shouted De Vine, "declare he is a wilful, deliberate liar. I now demand of Mr. McCormick where his proof is that these reports were prepared in advance."

"I did not come in here to have my acts put under question," said McCormick, rising.

"No man can make such charges against me," declared De

Said Mondell: "This wanton, miserable, scurrilous insult is in keeping with the avalanche of abuse that has been heaped upon the Republican party by men who claimed to belong to it, but who, when they first came into this room, declared the party had gone to h—l, anyhow."

WILL FOLLOW GOVERNOR.

The California delegates voted today unanimously to follow the leadership of Governor Johnson, who was one of the earliest and most ardent advocates of the third-party plan. They also voted to carry Roosevelt pennants with them to the Coliseum.

The eight Idaho delegates, who are uninstructed, decided to vote for Borah or Cummins. "Under no circumstances will we bolt," said George R. Barker, one of the delegation.

The Republican platform committee voted by a bare majority of one, a proposal by Governor Hadley to incorporate a plank favoring the direct primary. Governor Hadley announced that no minority report would be presented by the Roosevelt members of the platform committee. It is possible, however, that the LaFollette faction will present a report.

Action recognizing the fact that certain duties were too high, with a pledge for their reduction, was taken by the committee before it adjourned at 12:30 p. m.

FEW ARE IN SEATS.

Not more than 100 delegates were in their seats at 9:45. The galleries were practically empty and the prospects were that it would be well after the hour set for assembling before the convention settled down to the work of what the leaders hope to make the last session. Not a single official had put in an appearance except Sergeant-at-Arms Stone, who was busy conferring with his assistants and the convention police.

The band played "The Last Rose of Summer" as the delegates began to arrive around 10 o'clock. It was evident the convention would be late in assembling as at 10:15 hardly half the delegates had arrived. Comparatively few seats in the gallery were occupied.

Chairman Root, Senators Crane, Penrose and Smoot, Charles D. Miller, secretary to the president, William Barnes Jr. and others of the Taft leadership were in conference on the platform before the convention came to order.

With hope, but no certainty, of final adjournment some time before daybreak Sunday, the convention was called to order this morning at 10:43 by Temporary Chairman Root. Several delegates cried "All aboard!"

Chairman Root seemed amused at the interjection. The convention during the long prayer by Rev. J. W. Hill but the prayer was not heard.

The convention immediately took up report of the credentials committee meeting the Taft delegates-at-large in Mississippi.

MINORITY REPORT TABLED.

There were two reports. The minority report was tabled by a viva voce amid cries of "Foot, foot," the majority report was adopted, seated the Taft delegates.

In the second Mississippi district committee reported unanimously in favor of the Taft delegates and they were seated by the convention. In the Mississippi contest there was no minority report and the Taft delegates were seated.

The seventh Mississippi and fourth North Carolina came so fast it was not possible to keep track of the proceedings. A third Oklahoma and second Tennessee were rushed through amid confusion, shouts of "Let her go!"

"Exceeding the speed limit!" there in the traffic cop's hat and the somebody had his hand on his horn as he signaled like a street car conductor.

The Washington delegates-at-large, one of the big cases over which a hot debate was expected, were brought in by the committee. P. P. Howard, a negro delegate from Mississippi, made a point of order. "The steam train is exceeding the speed limit," he said. This started a big laugh.

Chairman Root suppressed a smile as he said, "The chair sustains the point of order."

He added, "The justification is that we have been going of getting through before now."

"SAND YOUR TRACKS." The majority report favored the Taft delegates. Every Roosevelt member of the credentials committee was in the gallery and they were seated. A delegate shouted, "Watson, sand your track."

Albert of Minnesota argued for the minority report. Gov. of Washington followed for the majority. For Governor Fort of New Jersey objected to his speaking as one of the seated delegates. The chair ruled that while Govell must not vote on his own case he was entitled to present his case to the convention.

The Taft delegates were seated by a viva voce without the expected roll call.

The first district of Washington came next. The Taft delegates were seated without a roll call. The crowd began to sing "Merrily We Roll Along."

Next came the second Washington district and the Taft delegates were seated, also were those from the third district. This finished the Washington contests—all in favor of Taft.

VENTURES INTO DEN. Vice Roosevelt, the retiring chairman of the national committee, ventured down among the Pennsylvania delegation. His presence, like that of a Daniel in the lion's den, caused a sensation. A big Pennsylvania picked him up and held him high while the crowd yelled.

Over the cover of the noise Call-tornians started the old cry, "We want Teddy!" For the first time it got well going and the anti-Roosevelt people had a hard time drawing it out with other noise.

There was a delay waiting for further reports from the committee, which was said to have begun just on the Texas cases. A woman in the gallery began to sing "Moonlight Bay."

The chaos of noise stopped and as she finished she was wildly cheered and had to repeat the song. The singer was Mrs. Florence Jacobson of Chicago.

At that time word came from the credentials committee that there would be no further report for an hour. During an intermission a big sign was hung over the rear gallery reading:

"What Root said of Penrose machine. They are an aggregation of criminals masquerading under the banner of Republicanism."

Slight of it started a great uproar, principally among the Roosevelt people. After a few minutes the police ordered it taken down.

Ellen of Pennsylvania took occasion to address his Pennsylvania colleagues. He was interrupted by Mrs. Jacobson singing "America." The crowd quickly caught up the song and made a great volume of sound in the familiar refrain.

At the end of the song Lissner of California got recognition and moved, "that during the intermission we listen to addresses on party regularly by Senators Penrose and Crane." This caused great laughter. The chairman did not put the motion.

Frederick C. Tanner of the New York delegation gave out the following telegram received from Justice Hughes, dated Lake Placid, New York:

"Rabbi Wise's statement published yesterday states my position. Please stop any effort on my behalf as nomination in any event would be declined."

Lawrence Y. Sherman of the Illinois delegation, mentioned for the vice presidential nomination, became ill with stomach trouble and at 12:15 was taken from the Coliseum to an emergency hospital.

Word was received that the platform committee had adjourned after completing its work.

WAIT FOR REPORT.

At 1 p. m., after more than an hour, the convention was still waiting with no sign of the delegation headed by Representative Samuel McCall of Massachusetts came into the vice presidential gossip during the long intermission and was received with considerable interest.

The convention was called to order again at 1:38 p. m., after a loss of nearly two hours. Chairman Root announced that the credentials committee had finished its work on the contests and reported that all remaining contests had evidently been abandoned. By unanimous consent all remaining cases except those in Texas were placed upon the permanent roll.

Intermission was resumed to await the Texas report.

GOVERNOR JOHNSON LEAVES HALL. Governor Johnson left the convention hall, declaring he would not sit in the convention during the nomination for President nor be bound by its act. In a statement he said all of the California delegates desired to retire with him, but that he requested them to remain to carry out the general plan of the Roosevelt delegates.

The long awaited report on the Texas delegates was presented. This was a Taft contest. The committee favored the Taft delegates. Two minority reports were presented, one by Sullivan of Ohio and the other by Cady of Wisconsin.

The Texas case, and the report, was conspicuously one where the majority acted with expediency rather than right. Taft delegates-at-large and those from the First and Second were seated. The Third Roosevelt delegates, favored by the committee, were seated. Taft delegates from the Fourth, Fifth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth districts were seated.

ALL PUT THROUGH. The Tenth district and Fourteenth Texas district, also Fifteenth Texas district, went through in short order. In the Fifteenth district the Roosevelt delegates were seated.

The report of the committee on permanent organization recommending that a temporary list headed by Senator Root be made permanent was adopted. Senator Root came forward amid deafening noise of cheers, whistling, hooting and signs of approval and disapproval.

When at last it became quiet Root made a brief speech of thanks. He introduced Henry Allen of Kansas to make a statement of perfect approval and a declaration that the Roosevelt people repudiated this convention and its work and without a physical bolt appealed to the people. Allen began by reading the statement of perfect approval. Allen's first mention of Roosevelt's name started a tremendous cheering in which all the Roosevelt delegations participated, with scores of people in the galleries. The Taft delegations still watching the proceedings, but taking no part in the demonstration. There was large sections of the gallery, too, where the people were sitting motionless.

The speaker lasted a long time. Five minutes after it started the Roosevelt delegates began a parade headed by New Jersey, followed by California, Kansas and Oklahoma.

FIGHT BREAKS OUT. As the head of the parade reached the head of the left hand aisle, where Nicholson was seated, a fight broke out. The police pounced on the fighters instantly, and the parade was swung in the opposite direction. Twenty minutes passed and the riotous went on undiminished.

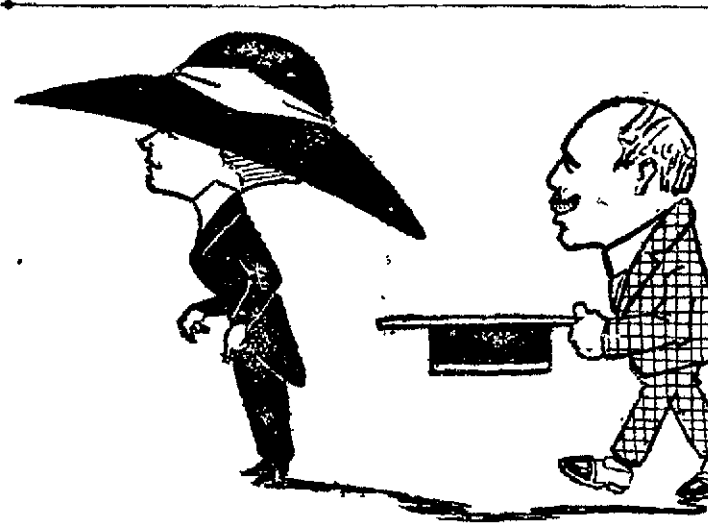

At last Chairman Root went out to the front and said:

"I hope it will be understood in this convention that friends of Mr. Taft must pay the same respect to speakers on the side favoring Mr. Roosevelt as the advocates of Mr. Roosevelt have paid to speakers on the other side."

For some time the crowd was quiet during his remarks. He said he was not speaking to create a demonstration. Allen's remarks, especially the reading of the Roosevelt statement, were constantly interrupted by cheers, hoots and other noises. The chair had great difficulty in preserving order.

EXCEEDING SPEED LIMIT. Allen said the steam roller had exceeded the speed limit in the California case.

Republican convention or whether the delegates would go to some other hall, but the latter course was most in favor. Colonel Roosevelt probably will address the delegates.

"PROGRESSIVE PARTY." "The Progressive Party" is the name which has been chosen. It is the announced purpose of the leaders to take over the machinery of the Republican party in states where the organization is in control of the Roosevelt men. In such cases, the Republican candidates for state offices may be endorsed if they do not wish to go through the form of bolting.

The plan suggested by William Filmm of Pittsburgh of turning over the electoral vote of such states to Roosevelt whenever the Republican candidate for president may be will be followed if it can be accomplished.

Roosevelt leaders say that their only reason in staying through the Republican convention was to force their opponents to nominate Taft. They believed that about definite rupture occur before the conclusion of the convention a compromise candidate might be named in an effort to win back some of the regulars and side interests.

The meeting probably will be held tonight.

Colonel Roosevelt about noon began meeting the delegates denied seats in the national convention. The delegates from Alabama were admitted to the conference were expected to last several hours.

It was decided definitely this afternoon that before the adjournment of the convention, or immediately after, there will be a meeting of Roosevelt delegates who wish to enlist in the new party.

Colonel Roosevelt's name in all probability would not be placed before the convention.

McHarg's friends insisted upon a third party, and that, at the close of this convention, they would remain in Chicago with Roosevelt to confer on the new party plans. McHarg expressed the belief that a convention would be planned to be called probably within six weeks.

Have you seen the suggestion of a possible independent ticket with Bryan and Roosevelt as the standard bearers, Mr. Roosevelt the candidate for vice president?" he was asked.

Does the sun bow to the moon?" was McHarg's reply.

McHarg added, however, that he saw no reason why an honest Democrat and an honest Republican could not unite on a platform of progressivism.

Colonel Roosevelt about noon began meeting the delegates denied seats in the national convention. The delegates from Alabama were admitted to the conference were expected to last several hours.

It was decided definitely this afternoon that before the adjournment of the convention, or immediately after, there will be a meeting of Roosevelt delegates who wish to enlist in the new party.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM POINTS TO NATION'S SPLENDID PROGRESS UNDER PARTY'S RULE

Recall of Judges Opposed; Leasing the Alaska Coal Lands Is Favored

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Republican platform was submitted by the committee on platform this afternoon.

Former Vice-President Fairbanks' reading of the long platform suddenly was interrupted by an apparently inexplicable outburst of cheering. He was reading the section on economy and efficiency. Turning to discover the cause of the outburst, Fairbanks found that he was "playing against" William Jennings Bryan, who was crossing the press section to go out.

Mention of President Taft in the platform was warmly cheered. Fairbanks rose to the occasion. "We have been greatly honored," said he, "with the presence of some of our friends in political opposition, some of whom have business now in Baltimore."

When Bryan reached the street there was another demonstration. Fairbanks moved the adoption of the platform when he finished.

The platform follows:

The Republican party, assembled by its representatives in national convention, declares its unchanging faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people. We renew our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party and our devotion to the cause of republican institutions established by the fathers.

It is appropriate that we should now recall with a sense of veneration and gratitude, the name of our first great leader, who was nominated in this city, and whose lofty principles and superb devotion to his country are an inspiration to the party he honored—Abraham Lincoln.

In the present state of public affairs we should be inspired by his statesmanship and by his tolerant spirit toward men.

The Republican party looks back on its record with pride and satisfaction and forward to its new responsibilities with hope and confidence. Its achievements in government constitute the most luminous pages in our history. Our greatest national advance has been made during the years of its ascendancy in public affairs. It has been genuinely and always a party of progress, it has never been either stationary or reactionary. It has gone from the fulfillment of one great pledge to the fulfillment of another in response to the public need and to the popular will.

GOVERNMENT BY LAW.

We believe in our self-controlled representative democracy which is a government of laws, not of men, and in which order is the prerequisite of progress.

The principles of constitutional government which make provision for orderly and effective expression of the popular will, for the protection of civil liberty and the rights of men and interpretation of the law by an untrammeled and independent judiciary have proved themselves capable of maintaining the structure of a government which, after more than a century of development, embraces one hundred millions of people, scattered over a wide and diverse territory, but bound by common purpose, common ideals and common affection to the constitution of the United States. Under the constitution, and the principles asserted and vitalized by it, the United States has grown to be one of the great civilized and civilizing powers of the world. It offers a high and opportune to the ambitious and the industrious from other lands. Resting upon the broad basis of a people's confidence and a people's support and managed by the people themselves, the government of the United States has proved its capacity for the future as satisfactorily as it has solved those of the past.

ADVANCED STATESMANSHIP.

The Republican party is now, as always, a party of advanced constructive statesmanship. It is prepared to go forward with the solution of those new questions which arise and new political developments have brought into the forefront of the nation's interest. It will strive, not only in the nation, but in the several states, to enact the necessary legislation to safeguard the public health; to limit effectively the labor of women and children; to protect wage-earners engaged in dangerous occupations; to enact comprehensive and generous workmen's compensation laws in place of the present wasteful and unjust system of employers' liability; in all possible ways to satisfy the just comfort of the people for the study and solution of the complex and constantly changing problems of social welfare.

In dealing with the questions it is important that the rights of every individual to the fullest possible development of his own powers and resources and to the control of his own justly acquired property, so far as those are comparable with the rights of others, shall not be interfered with or destroyed.

The social and political structure of the United States rests on the civil liberty of the individuals and for the protection of the liberty the people have wisely, in the national and state constitutions, put definite limitations on themselves and on their governmental officers and agencies. To enforce these limitations, to secure the orderly and coherent exercise of governmental power and to protect the rights of even the humblest and least favored individual are the function of independent courts of justice.

INTEGRITY OF COURTS.

The Republican party reaffirms its intention to uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, both state and federal, and it will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate.

An orderly method is provided under our system of government by which the people may, when they choose, alter or amend the constitutional provisions which underlie that government. Until these constitutional principles are so altered or amended, in orderly fashion, it is the duty of the courts to see to it that when challenged they are enforced.

That the courts, both federal and state, may bear the heavy burden laid upon them to complete satisfaction of public opinion, we favor legislation to prevent long delays and tedious and costly appeals so often amounting to a denial of justice in civil cases and to a failure to protect the public at large in criminal cases.

Since the responsibility of the judiciary is so great, the standards of judicial action must be always and everywhere above suspicion and reproach. While we regard the recall of judges as unnecessary and unwise, we favor such action as may be necessary to simplify the process by which any judge who is found to be derelict in his duty may be removed from office.

Together with peaceful and orderly development at home, the Republican party earnestly favors all measures for the establishment and protection of the peace of the world and for the development of closer relations between the various nations of the earth. It believes most earnestly in the peaceful settlement of international disputes and in the reference of all justifiable controversies between nations to an international court of justice.

MONOPOLY AND PRIVILEGE.

The Republican party is opposed to special privilege and to monopoly. It placed upon the statute book in 1890 the important act of 1897 and the anti-trust act of 1890, and it has consistently and successfully enforced provisions of these laws. It will take no backward step to permit the re-establishment in any degree the conditions which were intolerable.

Experience makes it plain that the business of the country may be carried without fear, or without disturbance and at the same time without resort to practices which are abhorrent to the commonsense of justice. The Republican party favors the enactment of legislation to bring to an end the existing trust act, which will define as criminal offenses those specific acts that uniformly attempt to restrain and to monopolize trade to the end that those who honestly intend to obey the law and those who aim to violate the law may be more surely punished. The same certainty should be given to the law prohibiting combinations and monopolies that characterize other provisions of commercial laws in order that no part of the field of business opportunity may be restricted by monopoly or combination, that business success honorably achieved may not be converted into crime and that the right of every man to acquire commodities, and particularly the necessities of life, in an open market unflinched by the manipulation of trust or combination may be preserved.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION.

In the enforcement and administration of federal laws governing interstate commerce there is much that may be accomplished by a federal trade commission, thus placing in the hands of an administrative board many of the functions now necessarily exercised by the courts. This will promote promptness in the administration of the law and avoid delays and technicalities incident to court procedure.

THE TARIFF.

We reaffirm our belief in a protective tariff. The Republican tariff policy has been of the greatest benefit to the country, developing our resources, diversifying our industries and protecting our workmen against competition with cheaper labor abroad, thus establishing for our wage-earners the American standard of living.

The protective tariff is so woven into the fabric of our industrial and agricultural life that to substitute for it a tariff of revenue only would destroy many industries and throw millions of our people out of employment. The products of the farm and mines should receive the same measure of protection as other products of American labor.

We hold that the important duties should be high enough, while yielding a sufficient revenue to protect adequately American industries and wages, and that the existing import duties are too high and should be reduced. Readjustment should be made from time to time to conform to changed conditions and to reduce excessive rates, but without injury to American industry. To accomplish this correct information is indispensable. This information can best be obtained by an expert commission, as the large volume of useful facts contained in the recent reports of the board has demonstrated.

The Republican party has shown by its record that it is the only party capable of this task. We condemn the Democratic party for its failure either to provide funds for the continuance of this board or to make some other provision for securing the information requisite for intelligent tariff legislation. We are in favor of the tariff revision bill, and we condemn the Democratic method of legislation on these vitally important subjects without careful investigation.

We condemn the Democratic tariff bills passed by the House of Representatives of the 62nd Congress as sectional, as injurious to the public credit and as destroying business enterprise.

COST OF LIVING.

The steadily increasing cost of living has become a matter not only of national, but of worldwide concern. The fact that it is not due to the protective tariff system is evidenced by the existence of similar conditions in countries which have a tariff policy different from our own, as well as by the fact that the cost of living has increased while rates of duty have remained stationary or been reduced.

The Republican party supports a prompt scientific inquiry into the causes which are operative, both in the United States and elsewhere, to increase the cost of living. When the exact facts are known it will take the necessary steps to remove any abuses that may be found to exist, in order that the cost of the food, clothing and shelter of the people may in no way be unduly or artificially increased.

BANKING AND CURRENCY.

The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for safe banking methods. It is responsible for the assumption of specie payment and for the establishment of the gold standard.

It is committed to the progressive department of our banking and currency system. Our banking arrangements today need further revision to meet the requirements of current conditions. We need measures which will prevent the recurrence of money panics and financial disturbances and which will promote the prosperity of business and the welfare of the laboring people by producing constant employment.

We need better currency facilities for the movement of coins in the west and south. We need banking arrangements under American auspices for the encouragement and better conduct of our foreign trade. In attempting these ends the independence of individual banks, whether organized national or state chartered, must be carefully protected and our banking and currency system must be safeguarded from any possibility of exploitation by sectional, financial or political interests.

It is of great importance to the social and economic welfare of this country that its farmers have facilities for disposing easily and cheaply of the money they need to increase the productivity of their land. It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the demands of farmers for credit as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business.

FLOOD PREVENTION.

The Mississippi river is the nation's drainage ditch. Its food waters, gathering from thirty-one states and the Dominion of Canada, constitute an overpowering force which breaks the levees and pours its torrents over many million acres of the richest land in the United States, stopping mails, impeding commerce and causing great loss of life and property. These floods are national in scope and the disasters they produce seriously affect the general welfare. The states, unaided, cannot cope with these giant problems; hence, we believe the federal government should assume a fair proportion of the burden of its control so as to prevent the disasters from recurring floods.

RECLAMATION.

We favor the continuance of the policy of the government with regard to the reclamation of arid lands; and for the encouragement of the speedy settlement and improvement of such lands we favor an amendment to the law that will reasonably extend the time within which the cost of any reclamation project may be repaid by the land owners.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

We favor a liberal and systematic policy for the improvement of our rivers and harbors. Such improvement should be made upon expert information and after a careful comparison of cost and prospective benefits.

ALASKA.

We favor a liberal policy toward Alaska to promote the development of the great resources of that district, with such safeguards as will prevent waste and monopoly. We favor the opening of the coal lands to development through a law leasing the lands on such terms as will invite development and provide fuel for the navy and the commerce of the United States to prevent monopoly.

PHILIPPINE POLICY.

The Philippines policy of the Republican party has been inspired by the belief that our duty toward the Filipino people is a national obligation which should remain entirely free from partisan politics.

IMMIGRATION.

We pledge the Republican party to the enactment of appropriate laws to give relief from the constantly growing evil of induced or undesirable immigration, which is inimical to the progress and welfare of the people of the United States.

SAFETY AT SEA.

We favor the speedy enactment of laws to provide that seamen shall not be compelled to endure involuntary servitude and that life and property at sea should be safeguarded by the ample equipment of vessels with life-saving appliances and with full complements of skilled, able-bodied seamen to operate them.

REPUBLICAN ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

The approaching completion of the Panama canal, the establishment of a bureau of mines, the institution of the postal savings banks, the increased provision made in 1912 for the aged and infirm soldiers and sailors of the republic and for their widows, and the vigorous administration of the laws relating to pure food and drugs, all mark the successful progress of Republican administration and are additional evidence of its effectiveness.

ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY.

We recommend the earnest effort of the Republican administration to secure greater economy and increased efficiency in the conduct of the government business. Extravagant appropriations and the creation of unnecessary offices are an injustice to the taxpayer and a bad example to the citizen.

CIVIC DUTY.

We call upon the people to quicken their interest in public affairs, to condemn and punish wrongdoings and to strengthen in any possible way a respect for law and the observance of it. Indifferent citizenship is an evil from which the law affords no adequate protection and for which legislation can provide no remedy.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

We congratulate the people of Arizona and New Mexico upon the admission of those states, thus merging in the Union in final and enduring form, the last remaining portion of our continental territory.

REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION.

We challenge successful criticism of the sixteen years of Republican administration under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. We heartily reaffirm the endorsement of President McKinley, contained in the platform of 1900 and of 1904 and that of President Roosevelt contained in the platform of 1904 and 1908.

We invite the intelligent judgment of the American people upon the administration of William H. Taft. The country has prospered and been at peace under his presidency. During the years in which he had the co-operation of a Republican Congress an unexampled amount of constructive legislation was framed and passed in the interest of the people and in obedience to their wish. That legislation is a record on which any American might appeal with confidence to the favorable judgment of history.

We appeal to the American electorate upon the record of the Republican party and upon this declaration of its principles and purposes. We are confident that under the leadership of the candidates here to be nominated our appeal will not be in vain, that the Republican party will meet every just expectation of the people whose servant it is, that under its administration and its laws our country will continue to advance; that peace and prosperity will abide with the people and that glory will be added to the great republic.

BOY BANDIT GANG OF HAYWARD IS BROKEN UP

Head of Youthful Band Is Committed to Preston School

The session of the juvenile court held by Judge Ogden Friday afternoon was marked by numerous arrests and the breaking up of the "canyon gang" who had adopted some wild and unlawful habits.

Carrying pistols and concealing their faces behind masks they have made life a torment to some of the farmers in the vicinity of Hayward through petty robberies and hold-ups.

Three of the boys, who have been causing a great deal of trouble in the neighborhood where they reside, are not over 15 years old. They had attended school for a number of years, having been coming to school for some time, but had become interested in a bandit's life they roamed the country, hiding in barns, and finally holding up a pedestrian. Two of the boys were armed with pistols and one had a BB rifle. Demanding that their victim hold up his hands they fired several shots which hit no one.

The man they attacked did not know the boys were in earnest but thought they were joking, for they gave every appearance of respectability, but when the bullets began to whiz close to his head he saw at a glance the situation was serious.

The three boys were taken into custody by Probation Officer Bendzner last Monday. This has been the death knell to the "canyon gang." One of the boys has been or less under supervision for a number of years, having been committed twice to Oakland orphanages, the Fred Finch school, Whittles and the Aid Society. The boy is supposed to have exercised a bad influence on his companions and was the recognized head of the gang. He has been motherless since babyhood, and has a father who has been unsuccessful in controlling his progeny.

The head of the "gang," who is but 14 years old, was committed to the Preston school for a second and final hearing this week.

RECEIVES PROBATION.

On the recommendation of the probation officers, John Lindsay, one of a trio of youths who had systematically robbed the Southern Pacific company out of $30 by changing destination slips on conductors' collections at the Melrose station, was committed to probation during minority.

Christopher Ruess of the Probation Court is conducting an investigation in all cities where the population is over 100,000 relative to the disposition of probationers.

It has been found, in cases where burglars have been committed at 13 years of age, that the county probation officers are compelled to keep the offenders under surveillance until they reach 21 years. In some cases, possibly four out of six, the watchfulness which is kept over the boys does not help evade them, but has a tendency to make them feel they are being held down.

Judge Wilson of Los Angeles started out to give the boys their freedom, but it was learned that some went from bad to worse. One case in particular, which was brought to the attention of the court, was that of a youth who drank himself to death.

Progress toward reclamation can be gained after two or three years the termination of probation may be considered.

"If this course can be pursued," said Ruess, "it would relieve the probation officers' extra work, and cut down the probation period."

At the present time there are 700 probationers in this county, men, women and children, and there are seven probation officers, dividing 100 probationers to each officer where the number could be reduced to half the number if in use where conditions of the offenders had become improved.

In Los Angeles there are over 2000 probationers on the list at the present time, and people who are criticizing the workings of the juvenile courts say it is difficult to get children from the courts when once placed under the charge of the probation officers.

BARNESON HAS HIS HOUR IN COURTS

Has Pleasure of Seeing Chauffeur-Enemy Pay Fine at Redwood.

REDWOOD CITY, June 22.—Captain John Barneson had his "mornings in the courts" of San Mateo county yesterday. The muscular saintman, who had paid a fine of $10 for the pleasure of punishing James Irving, a chauffeur employed by John Gallois, started the day by appearing before Recorder Elving at San Mateo and witnessing the conviction of Irving on the charge of speeding an automobile. Fine $15.

Incidentally, Barneson, while testifying against Irving, applied the term "pinhead" to Irving's attorney, William Hamilton.

During the afternoon, before Justice of the Peace Lampkin at Redwood City, Barneson's cup of joy slopped over when his son, Harold, was found not guilty of driving an automobile on the wrong side of the road, and the unfortunate Irving pleaded guilty to a similar charge. Sentence suspended.

All three cases were the outcome of a collision between Harold Barneson's runabout and a touring car driven by Irving on El Camino Real between San Mateo and Burlingame. Both runabouts were badly smashed.

When Captain Barneson heard of the accident he rushed to the scene and gave Irving a good punning. John Gallois took sides with his chauffeur, and Barneson was arrested on the charge of battery. The arrests of Irving and young Barneson followed.

MISS GOODSELL VISITOR.

BERKLEY, June 22.—Miss Virginia Goodsell, a leader in local musical circles, has arrived from the southern part of the state for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Virginia Goodsell. While in Los Angeles she has achieved several notable musical successes, appearing there in concert and recital. Her brother, law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Cammer, accompanied by their little daughter Caroline, have gone to Santa Barbara, and Miss Goodsell will remain with her mother at least until their return.

THEY GROW HAIR

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined Stimulate the Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Betanaphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe, germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Recall "83" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp is bare of hair, providing, of course, there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Recall "83" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

BRYAN WILL FIGHT PARKER DESPITE PLEA FOR HARMONY

CONVENTION TO BE SCENE OF BATTLE

Five Candidates for President Decline to Join in Compromising Conflict.

Clark Tells "Commoner" Controversies Should Be Avoided.

BALTIMORE, June 22.—William J. Bryan will make the fight against the naming of Alton B. Parker of New York as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention, regardless of the neutral attitude taken by the five candidates for presidential nomination to whom Bryan sent a telegraphic note yesterday asking them to join with him in opposing Parker.

That statement was emphatically made today by Dr. F. L. Hall, national committeeman from Bryan's home state, who has been keeping Bryan informed of the progress of events here.

FIGHT JUST HAS TO COME.
Hall said the issue as to Judge Parker was more clearly defined than ever and that the fight had to come.

"The replies of the candidates so far made," said Dr. Hall, "clearly indicate that they do not care to take sides, but that will make no difference to Mr. Bryan. He will never let up in his fight and it will be carried to the convention floor."

Dr. Hall said the fight against Parker on the convention floor might be very close.

Those national committeemen aligned with Judge Parker analyzed the replies of the candidates to Bryan's note and declared the Nebraska leader would find little comfort in them and that he would be compelled to make the fight with only those delegates who joined with him.

MORE RUMORS OF A BOLT.
Some of the leaders hoped that Bryan could be persuaded to withdraw from the fight and abide by the decision of the committee in the interest of party harmony. There were reports that there might be a bolt if Judge Parker was finally selected and a party of progressives for Bryan. He will never let up in his fight and it will be carried to the convention floor."

SHORT AND SHARP.
The Democratic national platform builders promise to present to the convention next week a document that will be short and incisive. The number of "teeth" in it, one plank holder said today, will depend upon the outcome of the struggle between the conservative and radical wings of the party. On most of the majority points, however, the leaders seem agreed. Some of them say that the differences likely to arise in the committee on resolutions, when it considers the platform next week, will be matters of language rather than of content. If William J. Bryan wins his fight to have the keynote of the convention sounded by a progressive chairman, Bryan thereby will be made chairman of the resolutions committee.

In view of the Republican situation and the hints that the leaders of a "third ticket" may appeal for support to progressive Democrats, there is little doubt that whatever the complexion of the Baltimore convention, its platform will make sweeping concessions to the radical element in the party.

TARIFF AND TRUSTS.

Senator O'Gorman of New York, member of the resolutions committee, says that it is the consensus of opinion that the tariff should be the dominant issue and that a vigorous tariff plank should be the committee's first care. The next plank in order of importance, he believes, should be business monopolies.

A universal woman suffrage plank arrived here today and several prominent suffragists already have been promised a hearing before the committee.

Other planks the committee will consider are as follows: Declaring for regular increase of the navy, probably the construction of two battleships a year.

Permitting postal employees to organize. Improvement of rivers and harbors. Favoring a national public health bureau.

There was talk of a plank declaring in strong terms against a third presidential term. If Roosevelt is nominated to run again, it is said such a plank is certain to find its way into the platform.

Clark Declines to Join in Conflict

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Speaker Clark sent the following telegram to W. J. Bryan in reply to the Democratic telegram announcing opposition to the selection of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention and calling on the speaker for assistance:

"Have consulted with committee having my interests in charge and agree with them that the supreme consideration should be to prevent any discord in the convention. Friends of mine on the sub-committee of arrangements have already presented the name of Hon. Ollie James to the sub-committee."

"I believe that if all join in the interests of harmony in an appeal to the national committee to avoid controversies in matters of organization, we will leave the platform and nomination of candidates as the only real issues on which delegates need divide."

Parker Silent on Bryan's Opposition

NEW YORK, June 22.—Alton B. Parker, who has been picked by the arrangements committee of the Democratic national committee for temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention, arrived in New York today from Rochester. He is working

TOURISTS SHOWN GAMBLING RAID

"Rubberneck Wagon" Arrives at Scene Just in Time to See Capture.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—"This ladies and gentlemen, is a gambling raid by the police. We allow no games of chance in our beautiful city."

Through a megaphone to his passengers on his Seeling San Francisco automobile, and incidentally to several hundred interested citizens, the announcer on what is vulgarly called a "rubberneck wagon" that had come to a stop in the midst of police patrol wagons, gave the news to the world at 10.10 o'clock last night that the Waldorf Club at 149 E. Market street, being raided by Detective Sergeant Joseph Redmond and a posse. A moment later, those who had paid $1 apiece to see San Francisco by night got their money's worth when the detectives brought thirty-eight men down stairs from the clubrooms and piled them into patrol wagons.

The raid was carefully planned. Sergeant Redmond sent two policemen in plain clothes, E. C. Flynn and J. M. Sullivan of the Rush-street station, into the club at 9 o'clock armed with $20 apiece and instructions to play "stud poker" until 10 o'clock. They did, according to their later statements. At 10 o'clock Redmond and his posse quietly went upstairs, knocked on the door of the clubroom and demanded admittance. The players refused to open the door. Policemen Flynn and Sullivan threw their stars down on the table and announced that the party was under arrest. There was a rush for the door, but the posse drove the men back until the wagons arrived.

Roy Hubert and Julius Stein were charged with keeping a gambling place. It is alleged that Hubert is manager of the club and that Stein runs the alleged stud poker game. A box containing $69 in silver was seized, several hundred dollars in gold, 500 poker chips and several decks of cards as evidence. Hubert and Stein were released on $50 bail apiece and the other men, charged with frequenting a gambling place, released on $20 bail apiece. Only two or three of the prisoners could produce cards showing them to be members of the "club."

JAPAN REACHING FOR WORLD TRADE

M. H. de Young of San Francisco Sounds Warning in London Interview.

JAPAN, June 22.—The London Chronicle says: M. H. de Young, of San Francisco and Oriental Commissioner for the Panama-Pacific Exposition, is here after a trip to China, Japan and the far east. He says Japan is after the trade of the world and needs close watching. He declares that eleven countries, including France, Italy and Austria, are sure to be represented at the exposition. De Young is confident that Germany will not allow other nations to obtain the lead in the development of trade in the Pacific ocean, which is sure to be largely increased with the opening of the Panama canal.

De Young said that while in China he was astonished by the commercial inroads made by Japan, which seems to be more than able to compete for the Chinese trade. "On the footing of equality with most of the progressive nations of the world, we are going to hear more of Japan," said Mr. de Young. "Not only in the promotion of her commerce in the east, but in our Pacific after the opening of the canal."

"I was really astonished at the products of China and the opportunities there for American capital."

De Young was chary of talking politics, but said: "I am firmly for Mr. Taft, but regret the low level reached in the fight for the nomination which has amazed the world. Foreigners cannot understand how a great nation like ours can look with quantity on the lack of self-respect shown in the mad scramble for the highest office in the gift of our people."

After a few days' rest here De Young will start home to take an active part in the presidential campaign.

BANKER BUILDS BURIAL VAULTS IN FRONT YARD

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—E. F. Kellner, a Glabe (Ariz.) banker, today completed two underground vaults in the front yard of his palatial home, "The Gray Tower," at Coeur d'Alene, between this city and the sea, and arranged with the Globe Masonic Lodge and the Grand Lodge of California for the last detail of the service that will follow his passage from this world. Not that he anticipates an early departure. On the contrary, his health is excellent; but he declares it is "for the satisfaction of knowing that everything is arranged."

Not the slightest hint of the sarcophagi beneath can be seen in the perfectly kept lawn of the Kellner premises. This was his promise when the obtained permission to build the sepulchral place as the final resting place of himself and wife.

Within the Kellner residence are as marked departures from custom without. One of these came to light today in a small advertisement in a local paper warning night prowlers to beware of electric shocks about "The Gray Tower." Kellner's mansion is so wired that, while it is perfectly safe for himself and family, it can be made instantly fatal to an intruder.

YOUNG SEAMAN IS KILLED BY TRAIN

Attempts to Cross Tracks While Intoxicated, Is Belief.

Paul F. Phillips, a young seaman from the steamer Vanguard, was run down and killed at an early hour this morning by a west-bound Southern Pacific local at Seventh and Franklin streets. It is thought that Phillips may have attempted to cross the tracks while under the influence of liquor, as his companion, Nick Youfolt, was later arrested for drunkenness.

The accident happened at 12:40 a. m. Motorman W. W. Wamsley declared that he did not have time to stop the train to save the man. Phillips was picked up and rushed to the Receiving hospital in an automobile.

Phillips was taken and that he had died while on the way to the hospital. The body was removed to the morgue. Conductor A. Morgue of the Seventh street train confirmed Wamsley's statements. Wamsley has surrendered himself to the police on a technical charge of manslaughter. He will probably be released after the inquest.

Phillips was 25 years of age. He is survived by a wife in San Diego.

FAVOR CANAL TO PREVENT FLOODS

San Joaquin Project Supported by California Legislators at Washington.

Support for the project endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce of constructing a flood water canal from the San Joaquin river near Pollock to prevent disastrous floods and secure the irrigation of that district, is being promised by members of the California delegation in Congress who have written the local organization. Among these are Senator George C. Perkins, Congressman J. C. Neelham, W. D. Stephens and Francis G. Newlands.

Senator Perkins has written as follows: "I am in receipt of your letter of June 11, relative to constructing a flood water canal from the San Joaquin river, near Pollock, and would say that Congressman Neelham has the matter in hand in the House of Representatives, but that it is too late in the session to take up so large a project as the diversion canal and I think nothing can be done until next session in December when I will gladly co-operate with Congressman Neelham."

For The Nervous Woman,

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good as scotch, and calm the nervous system as pure glyceric extract of native medical plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, bearing-down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

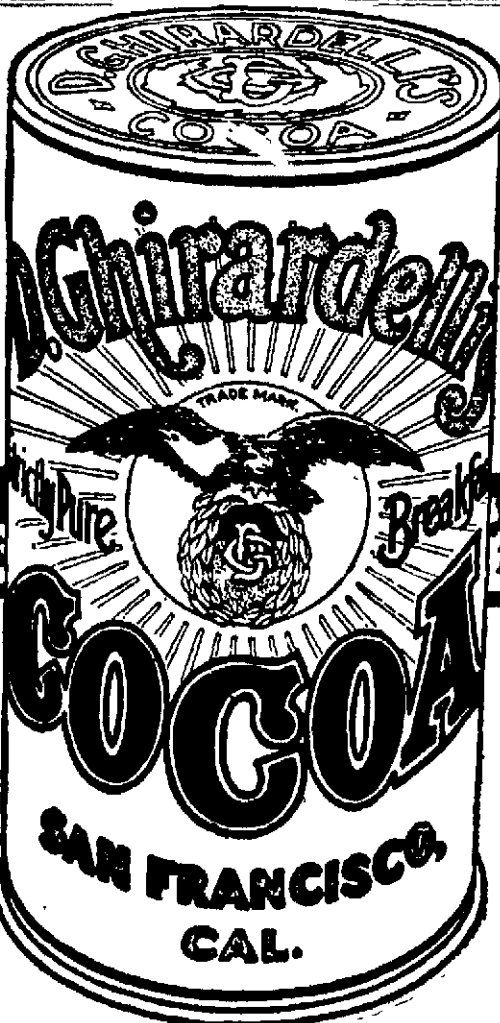

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs directly involved, teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, shop-girls, housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing and restorative tonic.

"My daughter was a nervous, hysterical, and very weak," writes Mrs. L. E. Allen, of Boston, Mass., Nov. 1. "I had nervous chills and cold sweats, and they would come every week. Then I had hemorrhoids and the doctor said I had a poor girl. I decided to try Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. He said I would have to have a good rest, and I stopped taking my medicine. After taking three bottles of the Favorite Prescription I have not had any nervous chills or cold sweats since then, for years."

"My daughter is now taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and she is very healthy. These remarks have been sent me and I am glad to hear that. We have great faith in your medicine for female troubles."

Answers a Double Purpose

Cocoa, no matter how often it is taken, is not only pleasing to the taste but it strengthens and nourishes the body as well. An authority says that the dietetic value of the cocoa bean is very high when the nitrogenous food values of the bean are maintained in preparing it for commercial use. In every can of there is a practical cocoa making experience of 60 years. That's why its flavor is inimitable, its purity unsurpassed. It is also very economical, costing less than a cent a cup. Starting with tomorrow change off to cocoa. You'll feel decidedly better if you do. Insist on Ghirardelli's.

One cup of milk and one lump sugar for each person, heated in a double boiler. In cup or bowl mix one teaspoonful cocoa for each person, with sufficient milk to make a thick paste and then add the milk. Let each person mix and eat by itself. See well when serving—add sugar to taste.

Justice Still Pursues Hopkins.

Billy Hopkins, proprietor of the notorious Hoffman Cafe on Seventh street, has again escaped conviction on a charge of robbing one of the unfortunate creatures employed in his deadfall as an "entertainer." The girl gave notice of her intention to quit his place, and, according to her story, Hopkins not only refused to pay her what he owed her, but grabbed her purse and assaulted her. The facts developed at the trial prove that Hopkins runs a low disreputable joint in violation of the terms on which he is granted a liquor license.

As at the first trial of Hopkins the jury disagreed as to the guilt of Hopkins of the charge before the court, but the evidence presented left no room for doubt as to the disreputable character of the business Hopkins conducts or the degraded character of Hopkins himself. His attorney admitted in open court that Hopkins conducted a "deadfall." That is a mild term for it. It is a combination of saloon, restaurant and house of prostitution, frequented by dissolute persons of both sexes, for whose convenience and entertainment the place is conducted. It is a resort maintained primarily to pander to vice.

The first jury that tried Hopkins were nine to three in favor of convicting him of petit larceny. Six of the jury just discharged voted to convict him of grand larceny. In each case Hopkins escaped conviction through the obstinacy of one juror, who not only stood out, but acted in the juryroom like an attorney for the defense.

But Hopkins will have to go before another jury. The District Attorney and his deputies are convinced of his guilt and they propose to exhaust all the resources of the law in the effort to punish him. If they do not succeed the fault will lie with the jurors empaneled to try his case. Each time Hopkins has been vigorously and ably prosecuted, and there will be no relaxation in the vigor and determination of the District Attorney's office to secure a conviction which will doubly benefit society by punishing a contemptible wretch and closing up an infamous business.

His experience with honest and even-handed justice is having a sobering effect on Hopkins. His attitude is not now so defiant of the law and so contemptuous of decency. He is not boasting of his friendship with the police and is conducting his place with a semblance of respectability. He is whining for mercy and promising good behavior in future instead of bidding profane and obscene defiance to all who object to the noisome business he conducts.

But Hopkins is Hopkins, and so long as he is given a liquor license he will create a moral stench in the community.

Some mush-headed Oregonian writes to the Bulletin to say that "prison discipline is torture." He closes his letter by saying: "I am opposed to all punishment." That's the ticket. Every criminal in the land will endorse his sentiments. But what about crime? Is he opposed to crime? This Oregon genius wants to reform criminals, not punish them. He would reform them by letting them go free when they get in the clutches of the law.

Bridging Suisun Bay.

Our San Francisco contemporary, the Call, makes a mistake in saying that the objections to building a pile bridge across the Strait of Carquinez will apply with equal force to the scheme of the Oakland & Antioch Railroad to build a bridge similar in design across the eastern end of Suisun bay.

The conditions are widely different. It was contended by the government engineers that the proposed bridge at Benicia would not only obstruct navigation, but would probably obstruct the free flow of water through the Carquinez Strait, and hence would menace the reclaimed areas in the delta region, or if it did not would be a barrier to further reclamation of the tide and partially submerged lands lying above the strait. All the waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin basin reach the sea through Carquinez Strait; there is no other outlet, and any obstruction there would back up the flood waters and put a dangerous pressure on the levees protecting the lowlands from overflow.

Looking at the matter from the navigator's side, considerable deep-sea shipping passes through Carquinez, but none of it goes above Antioch. Practically all the deep-sea shipping stops at Port Costa and Benicia. Only vessels of the coaster class go as far as Antioch.

Carquinez Strait is a narrow passage between cliffs, but Suisun bay is a broad stretch of shallow water, which has never been navigable for large craft. A pile bridge across it above Antioch would not seriously obstruct the waters flowing out of the San Joaquin basin. Draws properly located and constructed would permit the free navigation of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and the various affluents flowing into Suisun bay.

THE TRIBUNE agrees with the Call that the government should forbid the construction of any bridge that will obstruct navigation or the free flow of water in the delta basin, but the opening of a new line of travel and commerce should not be opposed on trivial grounds or on mere assumptions based upon a misconception of facts and conditions. If the bridge the Oakland & Antioch Railroad desires to erect will not obstruct navigation nor increase the danger of flooding in the delta region, permission to build the bridge should be granted.

Those Leaving Oakland on Vacation

Those who are leaving Oakland on vacation should take care to leave their homes in a safe condition. It is a good idea to have a reliable person to look after the property while they are away. It is also a good idea to have a reliable person to look after the property while they are away.

WHO PULLED THOSE TEETH?

History of Some Bolting Movements.

The last bolt from a Republican National Convention was in 1896 when Senator Teller of Colorado and his following of Silver Republicans walked out of the St. Louis convention and joined the Populists and Democrats in supporting William J. Bryan.

The result is history. Bryan was defeated, the coalition disrupted and the issue which prompted the bolt has ceased to be a debatable question. The nominee of the St. Louis convention, the lamented McKinley, was triumphantly elected and re-elected, and died honored and respected by the entire nation.

In 1872 an element in the Republican party rebelled against the renomination of General Grant. Calling themselves Liberal Republicans, they held a convention in Cincinnati and nominated Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown for President and Vice-President. At Baltimore the Democrats accepted Greeley and Brown as their nominees.

The result of that experiment also is history. Greeley was overwhelmingly defeated at the polls, and the majority of the leaders in the Liberal Republican movement were driven into retirement. Yet a number of famous men were prominent in the Liberal Republican bolt. Charles Sumner, Carl Schurz, Senator Tipton of Nebraska, Lyman Trumbull of Illinois, A. K. McClure of Pennsylvania, George William Curtis and Reuben E. Fenton of New York were among them. The Chicago Tribune, the New York Tribune, the Springfield Republican, Harper's Weekly, the Philadelphia Times and the Cincinnati Commercial supported the movement.

To use Roosevelt's expression, the bolters and their Democratic allies were beaten to a frazzle, and at the succeeding election Hayes, the regular Republican nominee, was chosen President, and in 1880 Garfield was elected.

In 1880 there were threats of a bolt if Grant was nominated for a third term, but the bolt did not materialize because Conkling, Cameron, Logan and Oliver P. Morton failed in their scheme to nominate the hero of Appomattox. Again the discipline of the Republican party was victorious over the forces of disorganization.

In 1884 there was no organized bolt, but there was a defection considerable enough to defeat Blaine by a narrow plurality. The followers of Ben Butler bolted the nomination of Cleveland and some of the irreconcilables among the stalwart followers of Conkling, Platt and Morton joined hands with their old Mugwump antagonists to defeat Blaine. George William Curtis and Carl Schurz fought side by side with Roscoe Conkling and Thomas L. James to elect Cleveland and defeat the Republican nominee.

But the history of the Republican party is not an encouragement for bolters. In the end the party has always shown that it is bigger than any man or set of men. It has triumphed alike over treason and open opposition.

The spirit which prompted our local hotel men to welcome Mr. Victor Reiter, new manager of the Hotel Oakland, to their ranks with a dinner on Thursday evening, is the spirit which makes for the best and most harmonious in civic affairs. Time was when a great competitor was hounded by all his rivals who united to defeat everything he might do for the betterment of the community. That time is now fortunately passing and in its place is coming the recognition of a civic responsibility which brings competitors together in harmony to work and plan together, to exchange ideas which will be for the mutual benefit of all concerned and the community at large.

Julia Marlowe, the actress, says it is positively sinful that potatoes should cost $1.80 a bushel. Likewise it is barefaced robbery to charge $2 a seat for admission to a fifty-cent show.

The growing interest being shown in efforts to do away with the public drinking cup is one of the most scientific and praiseworthy signs of the times. It may be true, as some of our old-timers contend, that our ancestors survived the terrors of millions of microbes and were a healthy lot in spite of them. Nevertheless, other times, other treatments. We of today with our civilization and luxury-begotten vices are not fit subjects to withstand the rigors which were as nothing to our forebears and anything we can do, however efforts it may seem, to make existence more healthful should not be started over with the motto of "too late."

WHAT'S IN A NAME

While father and mother are searching the album for a name for the newly born "precious" those who have no particular interest might cast over a few of the singular coincidences connected with names. There are those who solemnly aver that if you name a boy Bill you get nothing more than a Bill to bring solace to the period of gray hairs and enfeebled body.

The English people were quite stirred during the recent pageant in India because simultaneously with the naming of Delhi as the capital of that land the great liner Delhi was wrecked near Tangier, on the Moroccan coast, the prince royal and her husband, the Duke of Elna, being near to drowning.

On the day Lord Salisbury died a vessel called the Lord Salisbury was posted as missing at Lloyds. The Czar's son, the Czarowitch, was born within 48 hours of the time when the Russian battleship the Czarowitch had her disastrous battle with Admiral Togo's fleet off Japan, and she was the only battleship heavily engaged. On the very day that the present Queen of Spain was married—King Edward's niece—a filly belonging to King Edward, bearing the name, Victoria, won him the first race of the year.

The death of King George's aunt, the Princess Alice, happened within a few weeks of the dreadful accident to the vessel Princess Alice in the Thames.

Take the Humbert case. The Paris Figaro, during the Humbert trial, discovered a play in which the principal character was a Theresa Humbert (the same Christian name and surname as the distinguished ambassador); the plot revealed the palace of the ruined proprietress, which was sold up; there were shown piles of "dossiers," and a wealthy nobleman is introduced into the house very much like Mrs. Humbert's "Mr. Crawford." Yet this play was produced in public 80 years before the Humbert fraud was perpetrated! Quite as remarkable was a play submitted to a well-known London theatrical manager eight months before the Gaudie bank fraud. It foreshadowed the actual events of that celebrated case in no fewer than four particulars: (1) the robbing of a bank for the sake of gambling debts, (2) a pugilist named Burge, (3) a character named Marks, and (4) a Jockey named Kelly. How many millions of trillions of odds against such a combination.

A woman doctor called Sophia Hickman disappeared eight years ago from a hospital, and was found poisoned in a wood some days later. The Law Journal found that 37 years before a woman named Sophia Hickman had vanished in a very similar way, and was never seen again.

No wonder the superstitious gambler rushes to back up the number or name which is in some way forced on his notice. The race course has supplied us with various curious coincidences. A horse called Togo beat Big Gun almost at the hour that Admiral Togo was defeating the Russian fleet outside Port Arthur.—Detroit News-Tribune.

MERCHANTS PLAN TO ENTER PROTEST

Police Chief White Declared to Have Exceeded His Authority.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The many merchants of the city who have purchased a stock of torpedoes and other "harmless" noise makers are preparing to enter a protest with the board of supervisors against a recent order issued by Police Chief White. The supervisors enacted an ordinance relative to the sale of explosives and did not prohibit either torpedoes or canes. As a result of this legislation stores all over the city laid in a stock of both and had already enjoyed a prosperous sale when yesterday's mandate came from White forbidding them to sell any more until the Fourth of July. It is claimed that White has no power to make such an order.

There is also talk of the supervisors taking up the non-enforcement of traffic ordinance. This ordinance provides for certain regulations on Market street between Embarcadero and Ninth streets. Recently Chief White issued an order to the effect that the ordinance was not to be enforced below Sansome street. It is held that he is exceeding his authority.

SUFFRAGETTES SUSPECT T. R.

Colonel's Sincerity Regarding Women Voting Is Doubtful by Chicagoans.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Mrs. Charles Blaney and Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, delegates from California to the Republican national convention, attempted unsuccessfully last night to storm the headquarters of the Illinois Equal Suffrage League for Colonel Roosevelt.

"Why is it that the women of Illinois are not favorable to Colonel Roosevelt?" asked Mrs. Blaney in pleading the cause of the ex-President. "He has declared himself for equal suffrage and he is the logical man to push through our cause."

Mrs. W. B. Owen, a Chicago suffragist, spoke for President Taft, asserting that he had long been friendly to the cause.

"Roosevelt now is in favor of our voting," said Mrs. Owen. "but this is in the heat of a campaign and we are in doubt about his sincerity. President Taft is and has been for us and I think Illinois suffragists had better pin their faith to him."

Owners of Saloon on Market Street to Open Again Tonight.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—The saloon at Fifth and Market streets, the license of which is held by Edward Baker, and the opening of which was fought strenuously and resulted in the filing of charges by Mayor Ralph against Police Commissioners Spiro and O'Grady, is to swing wide its doors tonight. This evening has been set for the formal opening and although the interior is scarcely ready, the place is to make a play for business because of the fact that July 1 will be the expiration of the license.

The proposed renting of the corner was opposed by the large retail firms in the district and it was alleged that it could not be used for saloon purposes because of the near presence of a business college. Commissioner Cook was in the East, but Spiro and O'Grady voted in favor of the license and it was granted over the head of Commissioner Wood. Subsequently Mayor Rolfe, after an investigation, suspended the two commissioners. They took the matter to the court and regained their seats by injunction proceedings. The reason for this rush to open is that the license, which was transferred from Beale and Market streets, will expire within a week and at that time it will be necessary for the owners to apply for a new license. They want to show a lucrative business in support of their application. It is believed that all of the contestants who objected to the granting of the license originally will protest against the renewal.

CITY HALL AWARD PLEASES PEDGRIFT

Home Industry Committee Chairman Praises Architects' Jury.

Editor TRIBUNE: In winning first award in open competition for plans for San Francisco's new city hall, Messrs. Bakewell & Brown, the successful architects, demonstrated beyond question that our native architectural talent, when given an equal chance, compares favorably with the best in the land.

Pitted against the genius of a number of crack-eastern architects whose years of experience in the designing of large buildings should constitute some handicap, and judged as to the merit of their work by an unprejudiced jury selected to make the awards, having no knowledge at the time as to whose particular work they were passing upon, the success of these gentlemen stands out as a victory based purely upon merit, and emphasizes the truth of our contention that Oakland architects were not fairly dealt with in the distribution of work on Oakland municipal buildings when the determination of their merit was left to the mercy of the intelligence and discrimination of a single individual without recourse or appeal.

Had a similar condition prevailed in San Francisco it may be said to say that the design unanimously selected by the jury might never have received a second scrutiny, and this architectural masterpiece, like the desert blossom, might have been born to bluish green.

Let us congratulate San Francisco upon the success of the competition just ended, and upon the adoption of such a broad-principled method of making awards, whereby real merit gets its just recognition, and so to it as citizens of Oakland that no more arbitrary methods of making architectural awards be countenanced in the future.

San Francisco's city hall will not only be a municipal monument, but a monument to her own unquestionable genius.

JAS. H. PEDGRIFT,
Chairman Home Industry Com.

RICHMOND CURTAILING ITS LIQUOR LICENSES

RICHMOND, June 22.—Unless the saloons in the State-Fullmer district of the city immediately present applications for the renewal of their liquor licenses they are out to find themselves out of business after July 1. Once out of business it will be impossible for them to secure new licenses, as the city council decided some time ago that no new licenses would be granted until a limit of 1 saloons has been reached by the gradual elimination of local licenses as they expire or be revoked for failure to comply with the provisions of the saloon ordinance.

The saloons in the annexed district were, up to a month ago, under the jurisdiction of the county supervisors. They are now a part of this city and subject to the same regulations which all other local saloons are, a fact which they seem to have overlooked, as no applications have been made for renewals as yet. City Clerk Ira Vaughan was instructed last evening to notify the saloon men of the new parts of the city that they must act at once, and when they come to realize the jeopardy in which they are placed there will likely be a general rush to avoid being automatically closed, under provisions of the ordinance.

MORE LIFE RAFTS FOR BAY FERRIES

Passengers to Be Further Protected Under Government Regulations.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—In order to comply with amendments just adopted by the executive committee of the board of supervising inspectors at Washington to the regulations recently adopted by the board with reference to life-saving apparatus on passenger vessels, the greater part of the ferries plying on the bay will be called on to add several life rafts to their equipment.

The regulations provide stringent rules for ocean-going and coast-wise vessels, and also stipulate that all passenger-carrying boats whose routes lie at all times within five miles of land shall carry sufficient lifeboats and life rafts to accommodate 10 per cent of the persons on board. Few of the ferries do this, although the Southern Pacific ferries are prepared, when the life preservers are included, to take care of 6000 persons which is the limit carrying capacity of the Berkeley, the largest of the ferries.

Under the amended rules the Berkeley would have to carry sufficient lifeboats and rafts to accommodate 250 persons. While the other Southern Pacific ferries have to accommodate 400 persons in the same manner. At present persons in the same manner. At present the Berkeley, like all the others, carries four lifeboats and one life raft, the total carrying capacity of these being about 150.

It will not be difficult to conform with the new regulations, however, for all of the boats can easily carry from six to seven additional life rafts on their hurricane decks, and the regulations provide that three-fourths of the equipment may be in life rafts or collapsible lifeboats.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT AGE OF 81

Mrs. Mary Fouratt Was the Mother of Two Generations of Pilots.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—Mrs. Mary Ann Fouratt, the mother of two generations of Sacramento river pilots, died yesterday at her home, 118 Tenth avenue, as she lay asleep. Although Mrs. Fouratt had reached the age of 81 and her health had been none too robust, the suddenness of her death was a great shock to her family and friends.

Mrs. Fouratt was the wife of Captain Enos Fouratt, a retired Sacramento river pilot, who for years was one of the most prominent figures in the river travel between here and Sacramento.

Mrs. Fouratt was born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and came to California by way of the Panama route in 1852, in company with her brother, two years after her future husband had arrived here from New Jersey as a sailor before the mast. In 1854 this met Captain Fouratt, who had been following the river ever since the day following his arrival in San Francisco, and they were married.

There were three sons—Isaac, Enos and George—all river captains, but now dead. Enos is survived by Captain Enos Fouratt Jr., of the Apache, and also Mrs. George Fisher and Miss Marion Fouratt. George is survived by Captain George Fouratt Jr., of the Modoc, and Isaac by Major Allie Fouratt of the National Guard, all grandchildren of Mrs. Fouratt.

ALLEGES A DIFFERENCE IN COUNTY ASSESSMENTS

Hugh Craig Objects to Levy on Piedmont Property

The following letter from Hugh Craig regarding county assessments for Piedmont is self-explanatory.

Mr. C. F. Hopper, County Assessor, Oakland, California.

Dear Sir: Confirming our conversation with your deputy, Mr. T. Robinson, and referring to our minutes of the 18th inst., upon the subject of county taxation in the city of Piedmont, permit me to refer again to the importance that your county tax, levied upon the city of Piedmont, may correspond to that levied upon similar property in the city of Oakland, especially acreage property adjoining our Piedmont properties on the northern, southern and eastern boundaries of the city of Piedmont.

In taking this matter up in detail and referring to recent appraisement of Piedmont property, a copy of which has been given to your deputy, Mr. Robinson, it is our desire to disclaim any intention to dictate to the County Assessor's office or to force upon your office any values other than those which will provide an equitable adjustment of values of Piedmont property as compared to values of property adjoining in the city of Oakland.

We take it for granted that in this endeavor to arrive at values for tax purposes, that the two offices, the Assessor for the city of Oakland and the County Assessor, in each case, are anxious to fix upon such amounts as will bring to the county treasury results corresponding to that obtained for last year, 1911. These figures were based upon a valuation for the entire 1100 acres in Piedmont of $2,542,000. The items are to be found upon page 4 of the enclosed report upon "The Tax Issue" and the values were:

Real estate	$2,277,500
Improvements	1,111,700
Personal	149,700
Money and credits	3,000
Total	$3,542,000

PIEDMONT REPORT.

In our summary of appraisal, presented for 1911-12:

Real estate figures at	$2,542,000
Improvements figure at	1,111,700

or three times that of last year. Excluding personal property, which has not been passed upon by our assessor, nor indeed are the figures above to be considered final, for it is more than likely that a cut of 20 per cent will be made upon the appraisement of real estate and possibly 50 per cent upon the appraisement of improvements, hence, say such items and the values mentioned in our conversation of Monday last, be one-half of $10,729,100, if applied for county purposes at the new county rate, would produce a much larger revenue than about the city of Piedmont will need for county purposes. Assuming that the tax rate for the coming year will be less than .50 because of increased value of property, that the amount received from the city of Piedmont will exceed $22,000 and that the tax rate, instead of being .50 will be something like .35, then to produce the required $22,000 would be necessary to tax Piedmont at a rate of .35, or less than one-half of the appraisement values set forth in our report. We would respectfully suggest that the items on page 82 of our report, i. e., acreage property under the "San Antonio" shown at $733,900, correspond with your values across the Piedmont boundary, east, upon similar property, and be taken perhaps at one-fifth of that amount, i. e., $147,780, which would leave the balance of $586,120, and if two-fifths of that were taken, say $237,788, those two items would leave the county a realty value of $3,120,588 as compared with a realty value of last year of $2,277,500.

IMPROVEMENTS.

This, as referred to above, figures in our report $3,124,250 and if taken at one-third of that appraisement would give the county values largely in excess of what is necessary and in proportion to improvements in other parts of the county, hence, permit us to suggest that improvements be taken at one-third of that appraisement, i. e., $1,041,450, and personal property in 577 dwellings, $57,700, 120 cars at $500, $60,000, real estate, $3,126,588; total $4,255,718, as compared with $3,542,000 last year, an excess of 20 per cent or $713,718.

With an approximate 75 county rate that would produce as a Piedmont contribution, for county purposes, $3,197,000, or $181.75 in excess of what the county collected from Piedmont last year. In submitting the rough figures, as above, which are of a tentative character, we do not intend to give you any information as to the gross value of property in Alameda county, or as to the rate of tax to be established by the Board of Supervisors, it would be unwise on our part to propose a fixed tax rate for your adoption. The figures submitted above, and the tax rate of 75 are on the face simply speculative, and for the purpose of comparing notes with your office, as to how values may be arrived at for county purposes in Piedmont, and the county spared the expense of sending deputies through our territory to fix values on real estate and improvements by making use of the report submitted to our Board of Trustees for comparison, a copy of which has been furnished your office.

The matter is of such interest to taxpayers of the city of Piedmont that this memorandum has been produced in numbers to give each member of our board a copy.

Our finance committee will do themselves the honor of waiting upon your office to compare notes as to county assessment for Piedmont, at an early date.

Yours faithfully,

HUGH CRAIG,
President Board of Trustees of the City of Piedmont.

The report referred to in Mr. Craig's letter is as follows:

The sanitary district, say 800 acres, assessed at the rate of $1.00 per acre, fifteen years ago. When we incorporated, in 1907, the sanitary area was included in the 1100 acres.

Based on these figures, or for facility in calculation, we will call the assessed value $3,600,000.

The tax rate fixed by the county and our municipality for 1911-12 was as follows:

County general tax rate, .50, producing $1,800,000; Panama-Pacific Exposition, .05, producing $176,000; municipal redemption of improvements, bonds (1910 and 1911), .04, producing $144,000; total, .59, producing $2,120,000.
City general tax rate, .35, producing $1,260,000; school bond redemption (1910 and 1911), .10, producing $360,000; total, .45, producing $1,620,000.
Total, .59, producing $2,120,000.

MRS. PHILIP N. MOORE, WHO IS THE PRESIDENT OF THE GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Directors of Clubs Meet to Discuss Program for the Coming Week

The "Directors' Special," carrying officers of the General Federation of Women's clubs, pulled into Oakland late last night and was met by a delegation of local women who welcomed the visitors in the name of Oakland and then escorted them across the city to the hotel where the biennial convention will open Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Lynch, Mrs. Cora E. Jones and Mrs. Annie Little Barry headed those who welcomed the visitors here and in behalf of the latter, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, president of the national organization, responded with a hearty word of acknowledgment.

Mrs. A. C. Goddard, vice president of the federation, met the train at Orville and at Livermore Mrs. John T. Lynch, president of the Alameda district; Mrs. Annie Little Barry, secretary California biennial board; Miss Eva Powell, second vice president biennial board; Mrs. Cora Jones, state chairman of the promotion committee; Mrs. William E. Colby, corresponding secretary of Alameda district, boarded the train and escorted the federation delegates to their destination at the Palace hotel in San Francisco.

PRESENTS TO DELEGATES.

The delegates had a delightful trip and were presented at different stations along the line with flowers and fruit. At Orville Mrs. Moore was presented with a beautiful brooch, and at Sacramento a reception was tendered by the Tuesday club and a silver card case was given to Mrs. Moore from the members.

Responding to the welcome extended last night by Oakland women, Mrs. Moore said: "This is a delightful climate to a very pleasant trip."

At the Palace hotel Mrs. Moore said:

"We have hardly had time to think of programs or meeting, because we have been so busy receiving attentions. The San Francisco biennial, we expect, will be the best ever, because of the growth of the federation, and the fact that it is in California has helped a great deal to make that so."

"We have brought the best program we know how to prepare. That is our part in the convention."

"There is no reason why the suffrage question, as such, should be brought up here. Many of our women

BERGEN LYING IN ALAMEDA CITY HALL

SHADOW OF DEATH IS WELL FUMIGATED

Prominent Attorney Fails to Rally From Attack of Apoplexy.

ALAMEDA, June 22.—Attorney B. F. Bergen, who sustained a stroke of apoplexy Thursday night while going home from the Stanage-Brown wedding, is in a critical condition today at his home, 931 Chestnut street. His son, Benjamin Bergen, announces that the sick man has but slight chance of recovery. Bergen's first wife, who died about fifteen years ago, was also a victim of apoplexy.

Bergen was appointed a special federal land commissioner for California by President Grover Cleveland in 1888 and came to this state from Jacksonville, Ill. He won considerable distinction in the land investigation he made for the government and in the subsequent federal court actions in which he represented the government.

Bergen practiced law in San Francisco until the fire, when he opened an office at 100 1/2 Broadway, Oakland, which he has since retained, though he gave up active law practice several years ago. For a time he was a law partner of H. M. Swalley of Oakland.

Two years ago Bergen married the widow of the late John Bigler, an Alameda livernan, the wedding news surprising Bergen's friends. He and his bride took up their residence at 831 Chestnut street and it was to this home Bergen was carried when he was seized with apoplexy. Bergen's first wife died at the family home in Berkeley. Bergen's two adult children in California were called to his bedside yesterday. Two other children live in the East.

CONFERENCE DELEGATES WILL PRESENT REPORT

BERKELEY, June 22.—Dr. S. D. Hutshaffer of this city, who returned a few days ago from Minneapolis where he has been in attendance as a delegate upon the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, has agreed to give a report of the conference at a meeting of the Oakland Preachers' Association next Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The ministers will hold their session on the camp ground at Bushy Park in East Oakland and have invited the public to be present at this session. Dr. George W. White of the First church, Oakland, another of the delegates, will also tell his impressions of the quadrennial assembly of the denomination.

In the afternoon, Dr. R. N. McKaig of Sioux Falls, Iowa, the spiritual director of the camp meeting which is now in progress, will preach in the pavilion at 3 o'clock. The pastors attending the morning meeting will have dinner at the boarding hall on the grounds.

JUDGE MARRIES COUPLE.

BERKELEY, June 22.—Judge Edgar served as hymen's ally this morning when he united in matrimony Alfred J. Taverne and Miss Cecilia F. Finley, both of Berkeley. The groom's age was given as 23 and that of the bride as 18. She had her parents' permission to wed. Taverne came here from Hawaii some time ago and is employed in Oakland.

FINNISH CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED

BERKELEY, June 22.—The Finnish Evangelical Lutheran church, corner of Alston way and Byron street, West Berkeley, will be dedicated at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The occasion promises to be one of not only and long to be remembered by the Berkeleys. Pastors Ahlman, Elm, Raarto, Andsen, Skee and several others will officiate at the services. Singing by three church choirs of Berkeley will render the program.

There's satisfaction in owning a business of this character

It is indeed a great satisfaction to own and to manage an establishment of the character of Lehnhardt's.

We give wholesome pleasure to thousands every week. We furnish hundreds of families with desserts which if made individually would cost double the price we are able to ask. We meet the taste for sweetmeats with pure products of the most healthful and yet delicious character. We supply afternoon and after-theater refreshments made of the best ingredients and purest fruits the markets afford.

Every healthy being has a natural liking for sweets and confectioner's refreshments, and to be able to supply the people with confections and desserts and dainty dishes of real old-fashioned purity is a pleasure and a privilege which we appreciate and cherish beyond any profit that may accrue.

The Meddler

NEVER have wedding bells rung so merrily as in these June days, for this summer has been notable for the number of June weddings and for the engagement announcements of popular girls.

Two of the important announcements of the summer were made yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Felton Taylor, who announced the engagement of their daughter, Sereta, to Mr. George Smith, and at the same time they announced the engagement of their son, Felton Taylor Jr., to Miss Jones of Nevada.

Miss Jones is a guest of Miss Sereta Taylor, who entertained yesterday in her honor, asking sixteen friends to luncheon, and at the luncheon the happy news was told, first to the intimate friends of the family, and later the engagements were formally announced. Mr. Felton Taylor comes of one of the pioneer families on this side of the bay, the Taylor home on Webster street being the center for many years of an abounding hospitality. Mr. Felton Taylor, with his brothers, Montell and Churchill Taylor, has many friends, both in social and business circles, on both sides of the bay.

The Felton Taylors made their home for so many years here that the news of the engagement of their charming young daughter, Sereta, is a matter of great interest to their many friends. Miss Taylor, who is one of the youngest brides-elect of the year, is a charming girl, who has been most carefully educated in private schools on both sides of the bay, bids fair to be most popular with many friends here.

Mrs. Taylor and her daughter returned recently from Nevada, and it was in Nevada that Miss Taylor met her fiancé when she went there to visit her brother, Felton Taylor Jr.

LUNCHEON PERFECT IN ALL DETAILS.

The luncheon yesterday was perfectly planned and was exceedingly interesting. When the guests were seated at the table a messenger arrived at the Taylor home, bearing a telegram from Nevada, announcing the engagement of the bright young hostess to Mr. George Smith of Nevada. The message was signed by Daniel Cupid, so of course the guests knew it was true.

Among the guests at the picturesque luncheon were:

Mrs. James M. Taylor, Mrs. Helen Weaver, Mrs. Charles H. Lovell, Miss Dorothy Cooper, Mrs. John P. Cooper, Mrs. Alice Jones, Mrs. Charles Helms, Mrs. Helen Maban, Mrs. B. D. Fowler, Miss Phyllis Lovell, Miss Margaret Redding, Miss Ethel Meyers, Miss Esther Bentley.

The wedding date of Mr. Smith and Miss Sereta Taylor has been set for September 6th, and in the intervening weeks many complimentary affairs will be arranged for the attractive young bride-elect.

10,000 WOMEN TO MEET AT CONVENTION.

While the country is struggling with the great political conventions which nominate our Presidential candidates, California, in her turn, is planning to make successful what promises to be one of the most notable conventions of the year. The its fruit, its flowers, its climate, is the great playground of the nation, and it is quite fitting that pleasure should in a measure lighten the hard work. And plenty of good times are in store for the Eastern visitors, who will be the guests of the California women during the next few days. On all sides one hears of social entertainments, and the days will be bright with many festivities.

Two important trains have been speeding westward in the past few days. The first is the finest train of luxury that ever left New York. It has on board the New York women who are coming to the San Francisco convention. The St. Louis special was also an elaborately appointed train. It arrived last night, bringing Mrs. Philip N. Moore, the president of the federation.

FRUITS AND FLOWERS FOR VISITORS.

The St. Louis special came over the Western Pacific, and at Oroville a wonderful welcome awaited them. The thrilling city in the heart of the Sierra was formerly a mining town, but it was not of its mines that it boasted to the Eastern visitors—it was of its wonderful agricultural products. The Oroville women gave a warm welcome to the Eastern guests. Each one was given a sunny white feather, with the words, "Welcome to Oroville," in gold on it. There were gifts of wonderful bottles of oil, and there were great baskets of figs and other fruits for the Eastern guests. At Sacramento there was practically the same demonstration, the members of the Friday Club being the hostesses. A beautiful silver cardcase was given

Mrs. Moore as a souvenir of her visit to our capital city.

In the latter city were given the Eastern guests elaborate cartons of fruit, each ornamented with a California view and tied with ribbon, the latter fastened with the great seal of our state.

Very similar receptions greeted the incoming guests on the Southern Pacific lines. The New York women were met at Truckee by the Sacramento clubs, who joined the Truckee club in a great reception, and who accompanied the New York delegates to Tahoe, for the day to be spent there.

The St. Louis special, bringing Mrs. Philip Moore, arrived last night, and Mrs. Moore is at the Palace Hotel.

BREAKFAST TO BE GIVEN AT CLIFF HOUSE.

The many dates of the social side of the program are all important. The biennial breakfast of the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association is scheduled for next Tuesday, and will be given at the Cliff House. Several of the notable Eastern women will be at the luncheon, and it bids fair to represent a most important date. Indeed, it ought to, for to the press women of the station the women's club movement owes its inception.

When Charles Dickens came to America a dinner of welcome was planned in his honor by the press clubs of New York. But the women, who were doing just as good literary work as the men, were left out, and while the men sold tickets of admission to their dinner, they would not allow their sister workers to participate in the welcome.

Indignation raged in the hearts of the brave band of women, and they organized their own club, which was jeered at, laughed at, and received every kind of treatment except a welcome from the general public. The clubwomen had a hard time finding even a place to meet; but they struggled along, and in a few months came an invitation from the men to join them at dinner. And the women, to be generous and big, and forgetful of past slights, invited the men to tea, and the white doves of peace perched aloft, and the women's club movement, which afterwards swept the United States, was thus inaugurated.

Of its strength, the 10,000 clubwomen assembled in San Francisco is the best expression. So it is fitting that the biennial breakfast should represent one of the important of the club federation days. The president of the Press Club, Mrs. J. Lowenberg, will preside, and she is one of San Francisco's ablest writers and best-known women.

One of the best-known women in the New York delegation is Mrs. William Tod Helms, of the well-known Sorosis Club of New York City, which was the pioneer in the women's club movement. Mrs. Helms is to give a large dinner on the evening of July 3 at the Palace Hotel, and her guests are to be the pioneer workers for the federation of women's clubs.

SOCIAL SIDE OF GREAT GATHERING.

Of course, the social side of the many activities ought to be of much prominence, and we have demonstrated the fact that we know how to play out here in California. Among the many courtesies are the following: Automobile trips around San Francisco. On Tuesday, June 25, the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association will entertain visiting press women with an automobile ride to the Cliff House, where luncheon will be served in the banquet hall, overlooking the Golden Gate.

On Tuesday afternoon the visiting clubwomen are coming across the bay to be the guests of Oakland and Berkeley women. There is to be a large reception at the Fairmont Hotel, and the Daughters of the American Revolution will give a reception at the Palace Hotel.

The clubwomen of Napa county are arranging a large affair to be given at St. Helena, and about 350 people have planned to spend the day in Washington township. The visitors will be met at Niles with autos and taken to Mission San Jose, founded 1797. Luncheon will be served at Palmdale, the country home of Mr. Henry Lachman.

Far and away the most important date on the program is that of the College Equal Suffrage League, which will hold a meeting on July 4 at Golden Gate Hall. It is going to be extremely interesting, as fascinating speakers will discuss the various ways in which the California women are trying to meet their responsibilities.

At half past twelve there will be a luncheon at the Fairmont Hotel, in Norman Hall, at which the Baroness von Suttner of Vienna, only woman winner of the Nobel peace prize, will be the leading speaker. Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Colorado, ex-president of the General Federation, and Mrs. Blankenburg, wife of the reform mayor of Philadelphia, will also be among the speakers.

This is the most interesting date scheduled for the entire convention, and one wishes sincerely that more than 500 women could be seated at the luncheon.

OAKLAND'S DAY TO ENTERTAIN GUESTS.

Our own day for entertaining Eastern guests offers many difficulties, but, of course, with our usual energy and our unflinching courage they will be surmounted.

Our places of interest are so far apart, and it is a difficult problem to take 3000 or 4000 women sightseeing all the way from the Greek Theater to Mosswood Park, the Elbell, Oakland and Home Clubs.

One hears that Mosswood Park is of rare beauty, with its trees marking the growth of years, its rippling brook, its many-hued flowers and its wonderful playground. The children will be at play, the tennis courts will be full of players, happy child life, social activity, a cordial welcome, will all be in the atmosphere at picturesque Mosswood Park.

And so the call goes out to public-spirited Oakland, to lend its automobiles for a few hours of the afternoon on July 2 to bring the Eastern guests from the Greek Theater to Mosswood Park and our clubhouses.

Under ordinary circumstances it would not be a difficult matter to obtain automobiles enough, but so many people are now out of town that the situation becomes difficult. So it is the bounden duty of each of us to be a host of the day, to lend our own automobiles, or to ask our friends for theirs for the few hours in which they may be needed. And it is especially requested that all reports in regards to the automobiles be given to Miss Ethel Moore, who is chairman of the committee, and who asks that a generous response be made to the appeal for motor cars. Word may be sent to Miss Moore at her home in East Oakland.

MISS HICKS BECOMES MRS. H. M. KINSEY.

Among the interesting weddings of the week was that of Mr. Henry Merrill Kinsey and Miss Fern Hicks of Chico, which took place at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kinsey on Monday afternoon. The Kinseys are among our most prominent people and they preside over one of the most delightful homes in our city. The artistic home was rendered most attractive by a color scheme of yellow, which harmonized well with the brown color tones of the home. Quantities of yellow broom were used, and coropis added to the harmony of the color effect.

The bride is a very charming girl, who already has many friends here, and who will be delightfully entertained when she returns from her wedding trip.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wilese Manning Martin, pastor of the First Methodist church of Alameda, and an old-time friend of the family. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Kinsey, brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

After the ceremony a wedding repast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinsey left on the coast line evening train for Los Angeles.

Among those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Kinsey, Mr. and Mrs. Vance McClymonds, Miss Isabelle Scupham, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin John, Rev. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bush, Mrs. Edwin Orr, Hobart Hicks of San Francisco.

Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Orr and Mr. Hicks are the sisters and brother of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Dozier of Sacramento came from Oakland to be present at the wedding. Mrs. Dozier being a sister of the groom. The wedding invitations included relatives and intimate friends only, and it was planned along most enjoyable and informal lines. There were many wedding gifts for the young people, and

MISS MILDRED THOMPSON, AT PRESENT IN THE YOSEMITE VALLEY.

And, like her parents, she has many friends in both Oakland and San Francisco. Mr. George Smith is a graduate of the University of California. He is a mining engineer who holds a very responsible position with a large mining company of Nevada. One hears that he has every promise of a most successful future.

Many complimentary things are being said also of Felton Taylor Jr., who has pushed out into the world of work in a most manly way, and who has achieved a great success in Nevada where he has splendid mining prospects.

The family friends of the family have that Miss Jones are greatly pleased with her. She is a sweet, well-mannered, and also great biennial of the Federation of Women's Clubs will bring 10,000 clubwomen next week to San Francisco, and the note of preparation echoes through the state, and especially in the cities around the bay. California women on the eve of the federation meeting are well satisfied. They have worked, and their labors have not been in vain. The clubwomen of the state have been specially generous, and there has been money enough to fully carry out all the many plans formulated for the entertainment of the visitors. Many of the great topics affecting human life will be intelligently discussed, for some of the ablest women of the nation will be among the list of speakers in San Francisco next week. But it is not all to be hard work. California, with

The congratulations and good wishes which came to them were unusually sincere.

ARTICLE WRITTEN ON WOMAN'S EXCHANGE.

"As Others See Us." We are quite sure that they have a good picture of our Woman's Exchange in the many homes of our land. For lo, looking out upon us in the most friendly fashion, from the pages of the Boston Cooking School Magazine, is our own Woman's Exchange. There is a fine picture of it, and an exceedingly well written article accompanies the illustrations. The magazine is one of the best-known in New England, and goes to many of the best homes all over the land. And so it has come about that, without any pretension at all, the Woman's Exchange has advertised Oakland all over the country, and our thanks are due to that very successful organization.

We must go to Boston, it seems, for that information which lies at our own door, for the Woman's Exchange is now a part of our social life. It was recently remodeled, and the Boston paper gives the following attractive picture:

"The color scheme of the exchange is golden brown and yellow, which is carried out in woodwork, tinting, carpeting and curtains. It is always made attractive with fresh flowers, carrying out the color scheme of yellow with daffodils, chrysanthemums, coreopsis, California poppies—only varying when the holidays call for California Christmas berries.

"In our new home we have, besides our regular luncheon room, another which we call the 'Private Tea Room.' This also is furnished and decorated in golden brown and yellow. This room is used by parties wishing to give private luncheons, card parties or afternoon teas, and, judging by its popularity, it has met the public need. In this era of apartment houses and hotels many ladies are not situated so they can conveniently entertain at their rooms or homes, or do not care to have the trouble, so they find it a great convenience to entertain their friends at the 'Private Tea Room' of the Woman's Exchange. After expressing their wishes to the housekeeper as to the menu and color of flowers desired, they are free of all care and responsibility, for the exchange is prepared to furnish the daintiest and most delicious refreshments, from the simplest to the most elaborate, and everything cooked and served perfectly. Each entertainment brings forth many compliments for the delicious home-cooking, 'nothing restauranty, not even the service,' as hostesses often say.

"The private tea room has its own special gold and white china, fine glassware and table appointments. The maids wear white uniforms.

"The afternoon tea service is of finest Haviland, in gold and white, with brass trays to hold each service, and brass hot crater kettles to be placed on each table, so that each hostess can serve her guests quite as if she were at home.

"To go to the Woman's Exchange for afternoon tea is the correct thing, and each day adds to its popularity, especially after the theater matinees. The gentlemen seem thoroughly to enjoy the restful atmosphere and refinement of the exchange, as well as the home-cooking. Many a jolly party of gentlemen friends gather about the tables."

The managers and board of directors of the exchange are mostly members of our smart set, and we are very proud of their work, when we read the final sentence in the admirable article in the Boston magazine:

"The board of directors and managers give gladly and fully of their time, asking and receiving nothing in return, for their hours of care and thought, but feeling amply repaid for all in the gratitude so often expressed by employees and consignors in words and happy faces. Service, well done, brings its own reward."

MRS. WHITE IS LUNCHEON HOSTESS.

Mrs. William Thornton White was a luncheon hostess of the week, entertaining at the Country Club in honor of Miss Ruth Casey, one of the popular brides-elect of the summer. Miss Casey, since her return from a long stay in Europe, has been residing in San Rafael, where she established a very delightful and picturesque home. The luncheon was most delightfully planned, and a game of bridge added to the charm of the afternoon. Miss Schilling came from her home at Woodside for the luncheon, and Mrs. White's other guests were:

Miss Helen Ashton, Miss Beattie Ashton, Miss Yvonne Braver, Mrs. Pierre Moore, Miss Ruth Goodman, Miss Beatrice Simpson, Mrs. Roy Somers.

MANY AMERICANS TRAVEL TO EUROPE.

A trip abroad is an event in so many lives now that news of it is always interesting. It presents many phases, for some travelers go to Europe on next to nothing a year, and one hears that they have a most delightful time. They come closer to seeing the countries and the people more as they are than do their wealthier neighbors, who spend so much time in the smart hotels established specially for Americans. Some travelers take with them a list of the most delightful penions, in which their friends have spent happy days, and they thus enjoy the good fortune of meeting the people of a country in practically their home life. For no one wants to go abroad to meet Americans, for the most part.

There are travelers happy enough to have friends whose permanent homes are in Europe, and these are happy indeed, since life abroad in a private home is very different from what it may be in a hotel. The tide of travel to Europe is great, and floated across on the tide are not only the millionaires of our country, but everyone else who can plan the trip. One can spend months in an exhaustive tour of Europe, or one can spend weeks in the chosen country dear to one's heart. One can motor madly through the chateau country of France; one can spend long days sailing through the magnificent fjords of Norway, or one can quietly settle down in some Alpine village, or quiet country town, and spend a delightful summer holiday. All over Europe this summer are Americans.

The Misses Emilie and Josephine Parrott, who were so popular here during the past winter, are now in France. They met their father, John Parrott, in Paris, and in a short time they are going to London to meet their mother and sisters. They have all planned to spend the autumn in Scotland, where there will be a family gathering at the superb country place of Colonel and Mrs. Archibald Dick.

FAMILY PARTY TO LEAVE OAKLAND.

The Hubbards are making up a family party, which will leave Oakland in July, planning to spend the summer months in a tour of Europe. They have planned an unusually interesting itinerary, and in the party will be Mrs. Samuel Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubbard (Gusau Strong) and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hubbard Jr.

A party of young Californian girls are having a most delightful time abroad, seeing Europe under the best possible auspices. The young girls belong to the Alpha Sigma sorority of the University of California, and in the number are Miss Ruth and Miss Edith Black, Miss Gladys Brown and Miss Charlotte Bruch. The summer heat of Southern Europe has had no terrors for them, and this month will be spent in Italy, in the cities of Naples, Florence and Rome.

Miss Elizabeth McNear and Miss Viva Nicholson are in Belgium, where they have enjoyed some very delightful early summer days. They have visited Bruges, with its fine old belfry, and Ghent, and have spent some time in Antwerp, and, of course, in historic Brussels, and at the field of Waterloo.

They have traveled extensively in the months in which they have been abroad, having toured Italy and Switzerland. They have journeyed leisurely down the Rhine, and have spent some time in quaint, picturesque Holland. And the June days find them in Belgium, preparing to go on to London, where Miss McNear's cousin, the Richards, live.

MISS MCNEAR IS STUDYING MUSIC.

Miss McNear is a fine traveler. She spent some months in Paris in the study of music, as she has an exceptionally fine voice. She has traveled quite around the world, and she doesn't expect to return to California this year. Miss Nicholson is expected to return to her home sometime in the autumn.

When the steamer Olympic sailed out of New York harbor last week it carried many well-known Californians. On board were Mr. and Mrs. Truxton Beale, who are going directly to Paris, where they expect to spend the greater part of the summer. They have with them Mrs. Beale's very pretty sister, Miss Alice Oge.

On the same steamer were Mr. Charles Clark and Mr. Edward Tobin, who are going to England, where they will join Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Duval, with whom they are to enjoy a motor trip through Europe.

Mrs. Ella Bacon Soule also sailed for Europe on the Olympic with the various members of her family, among whom are Douglas Soule and Miss Carrie Bacon. She has with her also her two little grandsons, Edward and Beach Soule Jr.

The Soule home at Linda Vista is closed indefinitely, as Mrs. Soule is planning a long stay in Europe.

Miss Mabel Gray and Miss Dorothy Churchill are comfortably established in Paris, and are settled there for an indefinite stay. Miss Churchill has an unusually lovely voice, and she is studying with de Reszke, while Miss Gray is devoting herself to the study of art. She is one of the leading art lecturers on the coast.

MRS. HUNTINGTON DWELLS IN PARIS.

Though Mrs. Collie Huntington has many friends in California, she does not often come to the coast. She prefers to go to Europe, where she has a delightful home in Paris, and where her daughter, the Princess Hatzfeldt, is well known. The Archer Huntingtons have an exceedingly artistic home in New York, one of the very few homes there built on the Spanish order of architecture. He has one of the finest libraries in the country, especially in Spanish lore.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer Huntington are spending the month of June in Spain, and they were received recently at the royal palace in Madrid by King Alfonso and Queen Eva of Spain. Mr. Huntington, who is president of the American Geographical Society, is a nephew of Mrs. Collie Huntington, and a cousin of the Princess Hatzfeldt.

The queen conferred the insigna of Maria Luisa, the greatest mark of distinction that can be accorded a woman, on Mrs. Huntington.

TO LEAVE FOR EUROPE IN JULY.

Early in July Viscount and Viscountess Triston, the latter formerly Josephine de Guigne, will take their departure for Europe. With their children they are planning to spend several months abroad. After a visit with the de Triston families, they will be the guests of Viscount and Viscountess Helle de Dampliere, who live in one of the attractive chateaus of the Parisian suburbs.

TO SPEND SUMMER AT COUNTRY HOME.

Among the June departures have been that of the Frank L. Browns, who left this week for Ben Lomond, planning to spend the summer in their picturesque summer home, "Brown Gables."

Lawrence Brown has returned from school in the East, and is at Ben Lomond, and in July Mr. and Mrs. William Thornton White and their sturdy little son will be the guests at on Castro street and gone to the Yosemite valley. Early in August they are planning to go East and, they will visit in Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Guerm (Esther Glenn). Their cousins, the William G. Drums, also live there. The Glenns may possibly go abroad, and they will spend several months in Europe.

LONG MOTOR TRIPS MADE BY MANY.

Long motor trips are quite a order of the hour. In the early days of the motor car a trip to Del Monte was an important event. Then the route was extended to Santa Barbara and on to Los Angeles. Finally motorists went to San Diego by the coast road, returning by way of the great valleys and California was practically explored by motor. The venture some have motored to Crater Lake in

POISONED CANDY
KILLS IDAHO
BEAUTYFormer Sweetheart Suspected of Sending Deadly Sweets Through Mail.

B OISE, Idaho, June 22.—Lena Speers, a beautiful girl 18 years old, lies dead at the home of her brother-in-law, H. B. Benson, six miles from Rupert, as the result of having eaten poisoned candy sent to her through the mail.

Determined to locate the mailer of the package and charging him with the crime of murder, special agents under the direction of the Idaho State Department are following every possible lead. Postoffice Inspector Neal, with headquarters here, has charge of the case. A former sweetheart is said to be suspected, but the officers refuse to reveal his identity.

Living on a rural mail route, Miss Speers went to the mail box, as was her custom, and got the mail yesterday. She found a package addressed to her which she opened and found it contained candy. She ate some of it as she walked home. Her sister, Mrs. Benson, found her in convulsions on the porch of her home. The young woman was dead before a doctor arrived.

Crushed by Auto
SAN RAFAEL, June 22.—En route to the bay counties convention at San Jose, Miss Ella E. Fischer, secretary of the North Bay Counties Association and of the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce, was severely injured, sustaining a broken left leg, when the automobile in which she was riding with a number of friends, skidded and overturned on the road near Greenbrae yesterday.

George A. Ross, who was driving the machine, was watching another automobile of the party just ahead, which was skidding erratically when his own car skidded, shot over a slight embankment and was overturned. Miss Fischer, who had been occupying the front seat with Ross, was pinned beneath the wheel and the heavy front seat, which fell upon her.

The occupants of the forward car returned immediately to help rescue Miss Fischer and right the overturned auto. The injured woman was brought to the Cottage Hospital, where the white-haired friends, after seeing her attended to, resumed their journey to San Jose.

None of the other occupants of the car was seriously injured nor was the car damaged materially. In the automobile with Miss Fischer were Miss Mrs. George A. Ross of Forestville and C. D. Roberts of Santa Rosa.

Love Did It
SACRAMENTO, June 22.—Love for a woman, not his wife, contributed to the downfall of R. W. Jones, 27 years old and for three years clerk in the Sacramento postoffice. Jones was arrested yesterday afternoon after he had confessed to Postmaster R. M. Richardson that he was guilty of having systematically looted the mails of the local postoffice for several months.

Jones was trapped by the postmaster, who had been watching him since last April. When confronted by the evidence, Jones broke down and confessed that he had taken many special delivery letters from the office and had appropriated their contents for his own use. Since it is believed that his pecuniary needs have amounted to about $100.

Jones is now in the city jail, and will be taken to San Francisco to answer before the federal court.

In explanation to Richardson why he had looted the mails, Jones averred that he was in love with a woman and that she demanded more money than he could earn. To satisfy her demands, he resorted to rifling the mails.

A Little More About the Complexion

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, Lillian Russell.)

T HERE are so many qualities of skin to be considered that naturally as many different ways of treating the complexion must be discovered. The beauty of a complexion is its translucence, its softness and flexibility to expression, which the over-treated face loses wholly. To massage or treat a face continually with electricity will in a short time exchange any sensitive charms of contour to the mask-like ovals of wooden carvings, with just as much or less expression. The massaged faces can be recognized at once by their set outlines and peculiar color in the cheeks, as if wiped with a red-dened cloth. Not the pink and white coloring of nature, nor the sweet damask red which comes and goes like a breath and makes a face lovely as with the play of sun and cloud upon it, but a fixed, mottled red. At best it is the set face of an automaton. The face is the most sensitive, as it is the most expressive part of the body, and an hour's friction daily, stimulating the blood vessels of the surface, develops the muscles to a fullness and rigidity they were never meant to have. Hard cuticle is never accepted as evidence of beauty. Sailors, hunters and laborers have it to perfection, so do women who are proud of being "weatherbeaten."

A few years of hard massage treatment and the stimulation does its work like alcohol. The cheeks grow rigid, a permanent flush gathers on the face. It pimples and the inflamed hue of a wine-drinker make their appearance, the nerves unduly irritated, take their revenge in wasting away, and thus the cure is worse than the disease. One might wear a mustard plaster daily, as well as to undergo a two hours' massage over fine veins and capillaries of the cheeks. Experience proves all over-training dangerous. Physicians will tell you that athletes have less endurance than common men for the common strain of life, and die at a much earlier age than the majority.

Beauty, more sensitive still, is something which cannot be brushed or rubbed or washed on. It is the reflection of a good inward condition of mind, nerves and nutrition. It would be cruel simply to denounce a method which promises much without reminding women of the old natural way of keeping young. The nerves, not the muscles, control beauty. Sound nerves bear exposure without toughening. Restoring the complexion must be an all round treatment. Delicate, varied nutrition holds second place to a pure mind, plenty of rest and whatever refreshes; whether it be bathing, or exercise, motoring, or visiting friends, will do the final work.

One woman I know who owns to being 40 and looks 18 gets up at 6 o'clock every morning, walks rapidly until 7:30, then drinks a cup of hot water with the juice of one orange in it, takes her warm bath, rests an hour while reading her morning papers, then dresses and eats her breakfast. She uses no massage more than the soft wind upon her face while walking, but she sleeps with her windows wide open and takes fresh air as a medicine. She believes that the lungs need hardening more than the face. She uses salt in every drop of water she uses for bathing. To be sure, she adheres strictly to a diet of meats and green vegetables, salads and much orange juice. No pastry, potatoes nor liquids are part of her meals, but she drinks plenty of pure water between meals. Should a little wrinkle show itself between her eyes from some little trouble or worry, she will bathe it with hot water and rub in a little paste she makes herself of the white of an egg and marshmallow paste, leaving the application on for a couple of hours while she rests, lying flat on her back. Thus she cares for herself and knows no age. Naturally she has a happy, kind disposition and holds no ill-will against any one, though plenty are jealous of her looks and youth, and would slay her with a thought. But her strength is fortified by goodness and a fine, pure mind, which is a stone wall of defense against malicious thoughts. Remember, some women grow old before they know it, others grow old before any one knows it.

MRS. A.—The old remedy of rubbing a wedding ring on the eye is a simple way of massaging it and will often remove the trouble. Elder flower water is also good for eyes. Bathe the eye with the water, slightly warmed. Avoid late hours and do not allow the eyes to get fatigued.

SUBSCRIBER.—Have you tried the green soap treatment for your face? This rarely, if ever, fails to cure pimples and blackheads. Bathe the face in warm water to soften it, then rub the green soap into the pores, about three minutes. Rinse the soap from the face with warm water, using a camel's hair complexion brush, so as to remove all of the soap and as many of the blackheads as will come. Rinse the face in cold water. Fill the skin with a good cold cream, just dabbed all over, and let it remain about half an hour, then take it off with a soft cloth. You will be surprised at the amount of dirt that will come with it. Continue this treatment every night until the blackheads have disappeared. The green soap can be bought at any drug store. It is a sort of yellow paste and comes in a jar. I shall be glad to send you the formula for cold cream, if you care for it, and will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

ETHEL.—I shall be glad to send you the green soap treatment for blackheads and the cold cream for cleaning purposes. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope, I will send you the formula for cold cream. Cleanse the face first with the cold cream, using plenty of it, and rubbing it well into the skin. Allow it to remain about ten or fifteen minutes, then take it off with a soft cloth. Wash the face thoroughly in warm water, with plenty of good pure soap, using a camel's hair complexion brush, so as to get all the dirt out of the pores. Rinse the face in cold water, then cold. This closes the pores and hardens the flesh.

FRAIL WOMAN PUSHES
BIG MAN DOWN STEPS

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—M. D. Holt of 2141 Washington avenue, a hair tonic salesman, was found by Judge Kimmel Monday for disturbing the peace of Mrs. E. C. Vaughan, who conducts a rooming house at 2116 Washington avenue, and Mrs. Katherine Andrews, 19 years old, a roomer at the house.

After Holt, who weighs 225 pounds, had gone to Mrs. Vaughan's house and addressed Mrs. Andrews, whom he had not met previously, as "kid," Mrs. Vaughan, who is a frail woman, pushed him down a flight of stairs and down the stone steps leading from the house.

Holt told Judge Kimmel he had gone to the house looking for a man named Durie who works for him. He said he was intoxicated and could not remember clearly what happened. Mrs. Vaughan said she pushed Holt from the landings of each of the flights of stairs and that he rolled down.

BOY IN GRATITUDE
ASSISTS AGED MAN

Lad Rescued From Newsboys' Attack Aids His Rescuer.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Through the gratitude of Morris Doktor, who was rescued five years ago by Everard Starr, aged 70, from an attack of rival newsboys, the aged man has found a haven at the lad's home, 412 Tasker street.

Starr was evicted from his rooms several days ago and was starving on the street when the young man met him accidentally. Doktor took him to his home to live until work can be procured for him.

Doktor is now 17 years old and a clerk in the bookkeeping department of the Western Union telegraph company. It was while Starr was an elevator man at the Racquet Club that a crowd of boys had set upon the young Jewish lad, tearing his papers and scattering them about the street. Starr ran from the club, dispersed the crowd and gathered the papers together again. Soon after the incident he lost his position, through illness due to old age, and became totally dependent upon charity for support. His room rent was paid by the First Presbyterian Church, while a grocery order for 75 cents, given him weekly by the Home Missionary Society, sustained him. He worked at odd jobs and managed to accumulate $130, which he used as the first payment on a small farm at West Egg Harbor, N. J.

Through lack of funds, the persons interested in the old man withdrew financial aid, and eviction from his rooms followed. He has been notified by the company that sold him lots that he would forfeit title to the land and lose the money he had paid upon account, under the terms of the contract, unless he at once raised $20, the balance still owing on the land.

If he fails in raising this sum, his hopes for a chicken farm to support him in his declining years, which he had sold upon account, will be shattered. Meanwhile, Doktor, who already has his widowed mother to support, will continue to care for the old man until he is able to find some suitable employment for him.

Before taking this step last September Mrs. Lanman reported to have turned her estate into cash and turned it over to the order so that she might take the vow of voluntary poverty.

COUNTY CLERK THRASHED AGAIN IN SALOON ROW

DISGUSTED FRIENDS ADMIT COOK'S CAREER IS ENDED

THROWN LIKE REFUSE IN CORNER

Brawny Scotchman Teaches
County Official Lesson in Politeness.

Saved From Another Beating in Moose Clubrooms for Vile Language.

The spectacle of County Clerk John P. Cook, manfully repelling amidst sawdust and cinders in the corner of the Saddle Rock bar room was the edifying spectacle presented last night to a group of citizens and taxpayers, who finally turned from the sight in disgust. Cook's straw hat had been smashed over his head and the rim framed his swollen countenance, from which unintelligible sounds came forth.

Over the prostrate form of the official, whom the people raised to a responsible position of trust, stood J. M. Macintosh, a six-foot Scotch engineer, who was bent on teaching Cook to be a gentleman, no matter how painful.

Cook's latest disgraceful saloon brawl has terminated his political career. He was not at his desk this morning in the hall of records, and even the men who have been his staunchest friends, admitted that they were "through with him" and would abandon the hopeless task of keeping him from the downward grade, on which he is scorching without regard to his public duty or private self-respect.

SAME OLD STORY.
Two weeks ago, Cook was led away by friends from the Moose club rooms, where he had grossly insulted the members with filthy epithets which no man not under the influence of liquor would use, and after he had been saved a well-deserved thrashing at the hands of former Chief of Police Charles E. Lloyd, by pitying friends, Cook is "battered in."

It was not so very long ago, that Cook was soundly thrashed, also in a saloon, by a special health officer, who refused to have his ears further insulted by the language of the county clerk, who was too far gone to even spare his assistants, and terms. Supervisor John Mullins, "a red-hot" man, intervened at intervals of saloon brawling. Cook has repeatedly disgraced himself in public places and gone from bad to worse.

CLIMAX TO OTHERS.
The affair last night was a fitting climax to scores of others. Cook finally wound up in the Saddle Rock barroom on Thirteenth street, where he contrived to start an argument over the Chicago national convention. Loudly complaining that Roosevelt was the greatest president this country ever had, and that those who were not supporting him were "thieves and grafters," Cook annoyed a group of men standing by him and finally brought a remonstrance from J. M. Macintosh. The county clerk applied an insulting remark to the big Scotchman and the latter walked over and confronted Cook.

"Are you addressing me?" he asked.
"Yes," replied Cook.
"Then kindly re-address me," continued Macintosh pleasantly.
The county clerk repeated what he had said with the word "heck" added, and he was promptly knocked down with a blow to the face. Macintosh then picked up the county clerk, shook him like a terrier would a rat, and put him in the corner, where it is customary to sweep the refuse from a saloon floor.

LESSON NOT TAUGHT YET.
"Now are you ready to apologize?" he asked, but Cook did not seem to realize his position or care. He spluttered more epithets, and the big Scotchman took Cook's straw hat and smashed it repeatedly against the face of the county clerk, until the top gave way, and the rim fitted over the official ears and the official neck of the taxpayer's misplaced confidence.

COOK BLINKS OUT.
"I won't dirty my hands on him any further," said Macintosh, and he and his friends turned their backs, while Cook slunk out and went into the barber shop next door, and sought refuge to his nose, which appeared to be fractured. The negro porter of the barber shop went back to the saloon to gather up Cook's glasses and the remnants of his hat, and an official inquiry will soon be started to put an end to the career in office of Cook, who was once a competent man, but who has apparently been ruined by the same means that has brought about the downfall of many a man more capable than he.

OLDEST ALUMNUS GIVES ADVICE TO GRADUATES

J. A. Graves Is the Principal Speaker at St. Mary's Commencement

Jackson Alpheus Graves, who received the first diploma ever presented by St. Mary's College, forty years ago, was honored with the degree of doctor of laws last evening at the commencement exercises of the institution held in the alumni gymnasium, where he addressed the members of the graduating class. He was introduced by Brother Fabrice, president of the college, and the degree was conferred by Rev. Brother Thomas, assistant general of the Christian Brothers, who assisted in the ceremonies.

Seated upon the platform were Father Cranwell, chaplain of St. Mary's College; Brother Agnon, Father Connelly, Rev. Father Woodman of the Newman Club; Brother V. Leo, Brother Zenophon, provincial of the Christian Brotherhood, the Pacific Coast; Brother Valentin, president of St. Joseph's Academy, Berkeley, and Brother Florinus, president of the Sacramento Institute. There were many clergymen of the various parishes in attendance.

Dressed in cap and gown, seven students received their degrees as follows: Master of science in civil engineering—Thomas Patrick O'Keefe, B. S., '08, Berkeley.

Bachelor of arts—Daniel Eater Doran and Raymond Maurice Miller of San Francisco.
Bachelor of science in civil engineering—John Norton Barnett, Oakland; Elmo Edmund Leonard, Livermore; George Paul Miller, Sacramento; John Joseph White, Berkeley.

Twenty-one youths, who were arranged in a semi-circle upon the stage, received their diplomas as the result of their successful work in the commercial course. Following the distribution of sheepskins, medals were awarded by Brother Thomas.

ORATIONS DELIVERED.
The bachelor's oration was delivered by Daniel E. Doran, who spoke upon the function of the college. Thomas P. O'Keefe was called upon for the master's thesis on the subject: "Engineering and the Christian Spirit." Rev. Father Woodman of the Newman Club of Berkeley gave a brief address in which he touched upon the life of the saints.
While the students were standing with their diplomas, J. Alpheus Graves spoke to them in part as follows:
"Forty years ago this month, as a member of the first class that graduated from St. Mary's, I received the first diploma the college issued. Forty years is a long time as we measure human life. Leaving the college a young man, full of gratitude to it, poor, ambitious, full of hope and confidence in humanity, I return to you tonight, an old man, rich in experience, worn and battered by life's struggles, with some of my ambitions gratified, some of my hopes deferred, my humanity unimpaired, and still ready to carry on the contest.
"Educated as you have been, in the moral atmosphere of St. Mary's, by the good Brothers of this college, it is worth repeating that the religious as well as the intellectual side of your character has been properly developed. If you are blessed with a good constitution, good habits, industry, determination and an honest heart, you will be successful in life. Success does not mean simply that you will make money. Far better than money you will win fame for yourselves as good citizens, as good husbands and fathers."
ADVICE GRANTED.
"I will give you some advice, which I believe will be of great value to you."

conditions, if you have not acquired the cigarette habit. I am something of a crank on this subject, and thoroughly believe that no man living can do himself justice, or can perform his full duty to himself, to those dependent upon him, or to his fellow men, who is a confirmed cigarette smoker. The habit destroys the willpower. It deadens his power. It annihilates the initiative. It is the victim of the habit becomes its slave. Instead of owning and controlling himself, he is owned and controlled by the habit. All the undeveloped of the world are cigarette smokers. The hobo, the idle rich, both male and female; the petty thief, every gambler, every hanger-on of low saloons and dives, every criminal is, as a rule, a victim of the habit. Wherever debauchery, crime and drunkenness hold forth, there you will find the cigarette fiend. To me there is no more disgusting spectacle than the callous, headed youth constantly smoking cigarettes, unless it be the frazzled-headed maiden constantly chewing gum. Avoid the cigarette habit if you have not already adopted it. Stop it if you have. It is too late, if you have acquired it.
"Never in the history of the world were our services more needed than they are today. The world needs intelligent, earnest, willing workers, not afraid to take on other things. Interest yourselves in politics. No man does his whole duty to the state who neglects his political obligations. Indifference on the part of the so-called better classes leads to most of our political abuses, and they are many.
"Great masses of people have forgotten God and abandoned the Church. Religious ties no longer bind as they once did, hence the looseness with which the marriage tie is regarded. Marriage, most less being a sacrament, is not even considered by many as a lasting partnership. Now, you know, and I know, that the sheet anchor of the nation is the home, the fire-side—and the sheet anchor of the home is the sacredness of the marriage tie. When Materialism, Socialism, Atheism, Agnosticism, Christianity, Science, or any other man-crafted religion off the platform, all sorts of life affect the body politic, property rights are disregarded, people who have nothing cultivate a grudge against those who have something. Retardation usurps the place of frugality. The grandchild of the man and woman who crossed the plains to California in an ox-cart is not satisfied to travel in anything but a lightning express train or high-powered motor car. Simplicity in living is discarded for display, for show, for guineas, for dissipation. The result of constant nervous excitement, following a frivolous and pleasure-loving life, is shown in mind and body. In premature decay, in premature death, in weakly offspring. People should lead sober lives. Nights should be given over to rest, not constant revelry. Cultivate patriotism. Learn to love and respect the American flag."

PLAN TO END LOCAL MEAT SQUABBLE

Mayors Mott and Rolph Hold
Conference Over Inspection Difficulties.

It Is Believed Co-Operation and Harmony Will Bring Desired Results.

At a conference between Mayor Frank K. Mott of Oakland and Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco, held yesterday afternoon, it was agreed that the strained relations existing between the health departments of the two cities over the meat inspection, were a matter of regret, and that an effort should be made to promote harmony. It was also the consensus of opinion that conditions on both sides of the bay in the slaughter houses needed bettering and that through co-operation rather than antagonism between the two cities, remedial action could be gained.

The conference was held as preliminary to a more extended consideration of the matter, which will be the subject of a meeting between representatives of the health departments of Oakland and of San Francisco to be held at the offices of Mayor Rolph in San Francisco Monday morning. Market Inspector Dr. R. A. Archibald of Oakland and Chief Sanitary Inspector Hassler of San Francisco will attend the session.

The trouble between the two departments began several weeks ago, when Health Officer Broderick, Inspector Hassler and Health Commissioners Manning and Murray came from San Francisco and personally investigated conditions in the slaughter houses here, finding some of them in such shape that they had decided to bar from sale in San Francisco meat coming from Oakland, unless it should first be examined by San Francisco inspectors and receive the San Francisco stamp.

The Oakland Health Department officials strongly resented the action of the San Francisco authorities and during the present week retaliated by giving notice that no meat bearing the San Francisco stamp would be allowed to be sold in Oakland. This brought things to a crisis.

STARTS REVOLT TO ACQUIRE FAME?

President Jose Gomez Is Accused of Instigating Revolution.

HAVANA, June 22.—The rumors that have been long current that President Jose Miguel Gomez instigated the revolution in Cuba for the purpose of getting the credit of quelling it and thus increasing his chances of re-election to the presidency, have now taken the form of direct charges, made principally by the newspaper El Diario.

The paper declares that President Gomez personally arranged with General Evaristo Estenoz to start the revolution and then he bought off. President Gomez was then to pass as a strong man capable of dominating any situation and indispensable to the Cuban republic.

The paper charges that President Gomez was fully informed of the details of the outbreak before March 10, but took no precautions, keeping in constant touch with General Estenoz. The paper says that after Estenoz and Gomez had agreed to start a small revolution for their mutual benefit, the affair took on unexpected proportions resulting in a veritable conflagration.
"The constitution of an government, of all liberty, both civil and religious. The constitution is threatened by the new-fangled politicians, who style themselves 'Progressives' who are railroaded themselves into power and office under—as used by them—the false, meaningless, hypocritical cry of 'Let the people rule.' So far, in this state, the 'ruling' is being done by a few people of not overly good previous records. The constitutional and hysterical Heney has seen fit to publicly revile the constitution and its makers. Under the constitution the courts have always been our safeguard. They have always stood between the law-abiding and the lawless. Today one of the candidates for the presidential nomination is a man who has been convicted of the highest crime in the land, in certain cases, to a popular vote before they become effective.
"Educated as you have been, in the Catholic Church, you are doubly prepared to assist in bringing about these results. The church stands now, as it always has stood, for law against anarchy, liberty against slavery, morality against depravity and equality of rights for the rich and poor alike. Educated by her, if you heed her counsels and be true to her teachings, you cannot go wrong. Her benign influence will follow you and guide you to the end. You will always be found on the side of law and order, always fighting for the right, for justice and for humanity."

'HOPPIE,' OF HOFFMAN FAME, ON THE RUN PROSECUTOR IS AFTER RESORT-KEEPER

CHIEF DEPUTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY PHILIP M. CAREY, THE FEARLESS PROSECUTOR, WHO IS BRINGING ABOUT THE DOWNFALL OF W. W. HOPKINS, KNOWN AS 'HOPPIE.'

Hopkins Sends Distress Signal to Friends of the Underworld; Third Trial Postponed

In a desperate effort to save "Hopple" the underworld wires are humming frantically in the district of long hours and short skirts. Alarmed at the seriousness of the plight of his friend, the tenderloin has risen in his behalf and is exerting might and main to avert the impending third trial of "Hopple" Hopkins on a charge of brutally slugging a girl entertainer in his Seventh street cafe, and taking from her by force a purse which contained her pitifully small savings.

"Hopple's" friends have let it be known that "the barrel" will be open to those who stand by him in his hour of need. This is their reply to the attitude of Chief Deputy District Attorney Philip M. Carey, who announced again today that there would be an immediate third trial, and that no power on earth could prevent him from fulfilling his duty to the people of Oakland and striving with all the resources at his command to put "Hopple" behind the bars of a state penitentiary where he belongs.

UNDERWORLD STIRRED.
The tenderloin was given a big shock yesterday when the city council, actuated by the fearless prosecution of the case by Carey, and the evidence which Deputy District Attorney Rogers had amassed, ordered Hopkins to appear before them to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The disolute, mean and wicked women of the underworld know that "Hopple" has no excuse for a license; they know that thirteen out of twenty-four jurymen voted to convict Hopkins of a felony in two trials; they know the calibre of Chief Deputy District Attorney Phil Carey, and they are panic-stricken.

Carey, by the masterly conduct of his case against Hopkins, has done more to put the fear of the law in the hearts of Hopkins' friends than the entire police force and administration of Oakland.
It is a new experience to have a man with a "pull" yanked over the coals so ruthlessly and held up in the daylight to public obloquy, blinking and cringing.

HOPKINS ON ANXIOUS SEAT.
"The taxpayers of Oakland can well afford to spend their money in the prosecution of such a case," says Carey. "For it means the ultimate triumph of civic purity over civic corruption and the safeguarding of our children. The next jury will convict Hopple and put him where he can do no further harm for a while."

So that is why Hopkins, from his painted palace at 432 Seventh street, is "setting 'em up" to everyone and sending out the S. O. S. signal of a brother in distress. A few weeks ago he was defiant and boasted of all as a good joke. Now Carey and the council which has followed his lead, have charged "Hopple's" hilarity into the cauldron of a terrified hen. "Help me," is his plea. "I'll pay the expenses. Don't let 'em get me. And sundry heartenings of the tenderloin, always responsive to the jingle of the barrel, are out on the firing line. It is to be a battle between Chief Deputy District Attorney Carey, representing the decent citizenship of the community, and the forces of the tenderloin slinking along under the banner of "Hopple." Which is to win?

Marguertha Klunann has come to the conclusion that she does not want a husband who says, "what's the use of being affectionate. It's all nonsense," and whom she alleges did not take a bath for three years until her brother forced him to do so through criticism. She was awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce today from Frank Kleemann.
When Angelina Leeper had to call in a friend to prevent her from leaving her matrimonial home, the friend, who is one finger, she was granted an interlocutory decree. She will further plead as cause for action that her husband had threatened to lock her in a trunk.

Burglar Appeases Appetite at Midnight in Frightened
Woman's Store.

Feminine Delicatessen Keeper
Lies Trembling in Bed;
$15 Stolen.

Cakes, cooked meats and two bottles of beer formed the luxurious midnight luncheon with which an epicurean burglar regaled himself after breaking into the little house and store of Mrs. J. C. Johnston, 2141 Broadway, last night. While the sybarite thief sat and peacefully devoured the choice meats and cakes and drank the two quarts of beer, Mrs. Johnston lay frightened and trembling in her bed in an adjoining room.

Mrs. Johnston listened to the sound of festivities in her little store, while the burglar proved himself a veritable gourmet in his selection of the viands to please his palate. Before he had completed his midnight meal, Mrs. Johnston sadly estimated her loss to be over $15 in food and beer consumed. In addition to this she lost $15 in cash from the register.

Mrs. Johnston conducts a little delicatessen and bakery store. About 1 o'clock this morning she was awakened by the sound of a man ripping the cloth from a screen over a sliding window in her little house.

The burglar gained entrance, and made an investigation of the contents of the sideboard in a dining room. He found $15 in cash and some excellent preserves. Carrying the preserves in a cut glass bowl with him into the little store in front of the house, he proceeded to eat out a midnight supper for himself.

Cooked meats, bread and butter, preserves, pickles, stuffed olives, and pie formed his repast. The victuals were sent on their way with the aid of large draughts of beer, and Mrs. Johnston listened in distress as it slipped down the throat of the midnight guest.

Finally the burglar had consumed himself with this Lucullan repast, and, taking $15 from the cash register, he made a jauntily swift in keeping the loot he carried under his belt.

Mrs. Johnston lay shivering in fear for three hours before she gained courage to telephone for the police. Then she arose and fearfully called up Captain Charles Book. The police rushed to the place in an automobile, but all that could be discovered was the remains of a Valhalla repast and a very much frightened woman.

DARROW HATH HYPNOTIC EYE; FREDERICKS

Accusation by District Attorney Causes Courtroom
Laughter.

LOS ANGELES, June 22.—Charging that the defendant tried to hypnotize state witnesses, District Attorney Frederick J. Darrow temporarily interrupted the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery today. Roars of laughter ensued and a brief recess was taken until order was restored.

The District Attorney replied to Attorney Rogers' claim that John R. Harrington, the witness on the stand, was afraid to look Darrow or Rogers in the eye, with the dramatic declaration that Darrow would hypnotize the witness as he had George Rehm a previous witness.
